

It is un-American to hold religious prejudice as a barrier to public office. But they have been saying some untrue and drastic things about Governor Smith. If the question must be settled on the basis of religion, then we will take Governor Smith. Eight hundred thousand Catholic boys followed the flag of America in the world war, many of them now sleeping in the cemeteries of France. I do not recall that they stopped to question the son of a Catholic mother when the time came to meet the supreme test in the vale of danger. I do know that not a Quaker's grave can be found in that vast stretch of white crosses row on row in Flanders. I do know that according to the religion of the Quaker's they cannot take an oath and will not fight for their country. If Hoover is elected he may affirm the oath, but he will not go to war or fight for his country, if he remains true to the teachings of his church. If you don't like what I have said here don't raise the question with me for I am for a patriot as against an international neutral or a diplomatic spy.

The campaign is over. All that can be said has been said. It now remains for the people to speak at the ballot box. This is in the nature of the parting word. If I could I would speak the urge of a great Democratic victory. All I can say is that the country needs Governor Smith. The people should elect him. The country needs a Democratic administration. It should not be necessary to urge the voters to go to the polls. It should be the desire of every qualified voter to cast a ballot. In Milam county where we as Democrats are responsible, let nothing keep you away from the polls. You may depend on it that every opponent of the Democratic ticket will go to the polls. Let's roll up our usual Democratic majority for our nominees. When I vote for the nominees I not only refer to the national ticket but I have reference to the nominees of my county government. The refusal support to the national ticket is just as much an offense against Democratic regularity as to refuse support to the nominees of the county. Let's go to the polls next Tuesday and express our preferences.

I am glad to welcome my good friend Moulton Cobb as a co-worker in the field of newspaper work in Cameron. Mr. Cobb has been editor of the Bryan Eagle for the past two years. He has returned to Cameron to become editor of the Enterprise, to succeed his father W. M. Cobb. The young editor has had more than the average of experience and will give the Enterprise the editorial vitality it needs. Mr. Cobb says he will give the Enterprise an editorial policy, will take sides on all questions and will be vigorous and outspoken. This change in policy will no doubt make the Enterprise more readable. It is pleasing to note the first week of his editorship Mr. Cobb gives a ringing endorsement of Governor Smith for President and brands Herbert Hoover an alien to American ideals. With both Cameron editors young and aggressive and in agreement more often than disagreement the city is assured a forward looking journalism.

The Herald is fifty years old. It has given a half century of service to Cameron. It has a splendid plant, valued at many thousands of dollars, all of which is spent in Cameron. The policy of this paper has been against all worthless schemes of advertising, the management frequently turning down offers at attractive rates for use of its name to sell "special stunts" to Cameron merchants. We believe this is appreciated; that the effort to kill Cameron and to take its trade to bigger centers under the guise of "publicity" and "circulation" for outside daily papers, will not be sustained by the majority of our firms. Money spent for space on circulars where mass advertising is predominant is worthless. To patronize a publication whose interests are not in Cameron is a policy of strangulation for home industry and home loyalty.

Life is a splendid, beautiful game, if we play it fair, but if we buck, kick, growl, nag, gouge, sneak, lie, swindle and cheat they all come back in due time with compound interest on the investment, and all the best of the game of life is lost forever. Gentleness, sympathy and kindness will help us over many a hard place and help the other fellow too.

The end of the year will see completed a number of new modern homes in Cameron. Sign of real progress. Soon we shall have a city of home owners and life here will be much better. Bob Ingersoll once said: "Home make patriots. He who has sat by his fireside with wife and children will defend it. Few men have been patriotic enough to shoulder a musket in defense of a boarding house."

'UNK' YOUNG WILL STAR AGAINST RICE

CAMERON SUPPORTERS AWAIT PIRATE INVASION OF RICE INSTITUTE

Georgetown, Oct. 29.—"Unk" Young, Cameron football star, will perform in the game Saturday November 3, between the Rice Owls and the Southwestern Pirates. They are planning to bring home a bag of Owl feathers and the friends at home are awaiting their arrival with glee.

In Capt. Blackburn the Pirates have a triple threat man, an excellent passer and punter, and one capable of last Friday was beautiful to behold, reeling off yardage behind interference. His punting against the wind averaging 35 yards into a stiff wind during two quarters. Unk Young, who alternates with Blackburn at half is one of the best known backs in the Texas conference, a very long and hard passer and an excellent punter. His passes shoot like bullets and on a direct line. Young also is a fine runner for yards, reeling off two pretty runs last Friday. He is very fine on defense and made a touchdown against the Kangaroos by intercepting a pass. Lloyd Johns, full back is a hard driver, and a fine tackler. He is gritty, fightin' back and it will be no easy job to stop him.

"Sue" Brannen, half is one of the best blockers on the squad and is not often called upon to carry the ball because his interferences are so valuable. But, when he does carry the ball he gains. He is especially good at snagging passes from Blackburn, getting a touchdown that way last Friday. Hodges, is the leading tackle of the Pirate line. He captured last year's team, and this will be his last appearance against Rice, playing his fourth year. Hodges is good and can be depended upon to stop the best Rice has when it comes his way.

Franklin, the star end of the Pirate squad, is a rangy, fast wing man, dependable in running down under punts and adept at pulling down passes in his direction. He scored the only touchdown the Pirates got from St. Edwards two weeks ago, taking a pretty 20 yard pass from Young and throwing off a tackle at the goal line.

In Janick, the Pirates have one of the fastest, flashiest broken field runners in Texas. This boy rarely goes out of a game without having thrilled the stands two or three times. He figured in two touchdowns against the Kangaroos, one of them a 65 yard gain from a pass from Young. Janick startled Texas last year in his first appearance against Howard Payne when he gained more yardage singled handed than all the rest of the field put together. He came terribly near making a touchdown on the kickoff against St. Edwards but was stopped on the Saint's 40 yard line when he fell over an opponent who had been knocked down at his side by another Pirate player. Janick is dangerous when he gets loose and he is very likely to get loose a time or two against Rice.

J. B. KEMP JR., IS VICTIM OF TYPHOID

FUNERAL HELD IN DALLAS FOR BELOVED YOUTH WHO DIED OCTOBER 26

It was with grief that his many friends learned Friday morning of the death of J. B. Kemp, age 21, at six o'clock at the Cameron Hospital. He had been ill for a number of weeks, first with typhoid fever from which he probably would have recovered had not double pneumonia developed which caused his death.

The body was taken Friday night over the Santa Fe where funeral services were held Saturday at the family residence, 503 Marsalis Avenue. Coleman and Eplen had charge of arrangements in Cameron. His parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kemp, left Friday for Dallas and friends of the deceased stayed with the body until it left.

Interment was made in Oak Hill Cemetery, Dallas. Pall bearers were fraternity brothers and Reed Rogers and Elmo Baggett of Cameron.

Although the Kemps have not lived in Cameron a long time, and J. B. spent only his summer months here, his winning personality had won him scores of friends. He graduated from Oak Cliff High School at Dallas, taking a business course afterwards. Last year he was a student at Southern Methodist University.

Those going to Dallas besides the family were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McDermott, Mrs. William Rogers, Reed Rogers, Elmo Baggett and Mr. Smith of Minerva.

The body of the dead youth lay at the funeral chapel of the Coleman-Eplen undertaking company from noon Friday until early Saturday morning when taken for transportation over the Santa Fe to 503 North Marsalis Avenue, Dallas where at four p. m. Saturday funeral services were held. All during the day friends and neighbors visited the chapel to pay their respects and to show their deep concern over the bereavement of the family.

All during the days of his illness the people were constant in their inquiry as to his welfare. Hopes were alternately high and low. His fight for life was a gallant one and his death has brought a sorrow the years cannot erase from the hearts of his friends.

The Herald extends its heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives and hosts of friends here and in Dallas.

SMITH RALLY FRIDAY NIGHT FOR BEAT 5

SHARPE IS SCENE OF LARGE GATHERING FOR THE NATIONAL TICKET

The campaign for Governor Smith and Senator Robinson was brought to a close so far as public gatherings are concerned at Sharpe on last Friday night when the Democrats of Beat 5 gathered to hear Judge W. G. Gillis, E. A. Wallace and T. S. Henderson Jr., discuss the issues of the campaign.

It was the largest gathering to have been held in the county except the county-wide rally here when Governor Miller spoke.

The meeting was opened by T. S. Henderson, Jr., who presided and in opening the discussion, made a strong appeal for loyalty to the party citing its history and the record of the Republican party.

Mr. Wallace in characteristic style of eloquence as well as logic brought the crowd to cheers with a fiery appeal for Democratic support calling to memory his first speech for William Jennings Bryan in that neighborhood in 1898 when the great Commoner was the standard bearer. Never in the history of the country has a leader of such courage and capacity arisen to lead the party as Governor Smith when considered in the light of opportune occurrence, he said.

Judge Gillis closed the rally with a stirring address, taking up for discussion the various issues of the campaign and indicted the Republican party for its faithless record of service. In defense of religious liberty Judge Gillis grew eloquent and was frequently applauded. The leadership of Governor Smith is now available to the nation, he said and it is the duty of every Democrat to go to the polls on November 6th and register for the Democratic cause.

The Pioneer Band furnished music for the rally. Several hundred people heard the speeches.

T. M. Tibbals, industrial man with the Gas Company, has returned from a trip to Gainesville. Mr. Tibbals has been enjoying a vacation of ten days.

Old Marvin College Students In Reunion In North Texas

Mrs. J. D. Hefley, Sr., returned Wednesday night from Dallas where, during the course of her visit there, she attended a reunion of students of old Marvin College at Waxahachie, the present Trinity University. Marvin College was the first co-education school in North Texas. This organization of alumni was made last year during the Dallas Fair with thirty members. It is to be an annual occasion on Ellis County Day at the State Fair. This year there were more than 90 in attendance.

Mrs. Hefley was a student at the college in 1884-85. Among the prominent people of Texas who are alumni are Messrs. Clarence Ousley of Dallas who was an instructor; Royal Ferris of Dallas, Dr. Marvin Graves of Houston and Mrs. S. W. King of Dallas, who was made president for the ensuing year.

A program had been arranged for the meeting and Mrs. Hefley had a part, but according to her statement, everyone was so glad to see everybody else the program was dispensed with and the day was spent in renewing friendships and reminiscing. An interesting feature was that in answer to roll call all the ladies gave their maiden names and also their present names.

Mrs. Hefley has been away for about three weeks. She visited Mrs. J. P. Fielder in Arlington, Mrs. B. P. McDowell in Fort Worth and Mrs. P. W. Gibson in Dallas.

JUDGE GILLIS SPEAKS AT CALDWELL MEETING

ESTIMATE 5000 HEAR CAMERON JURIST FLAY REPUBLICAN CORRUPTION

Judge W. G. Gillis is sounding the call of Democracy in this section of Texas under direction of the state committee and on invitation of organization committees in adjoining counties. Saturday night in Caldwell, it was estimated that 5000 people heard the judge in an inspiring campaign address for Governor Smith. This is taken from a news dispatch from Caldwell.

The largest political rallies in Burleson county in many years was held on the public square when the voters heard discussed the real issues of the presidential campaign. The rally that was widely advertised throughout this and neighboring counties bore fruit as many people from the neighboring cities were in attendance. Arrangements had been made for a large crowd and all seats were at a premium. It was estimated that 5000 people turned out.

The first speaker was Judge W. G. Gillis, of Cameron, formerly county judge of Milam county and chairman of the democratic executive committee of that county for the past eight years.

He gave a life story of Alfred E. Smith and gave a detailed account of each issue. Among the issues discussed were religious tolerance, tariff, prohibition, "Hoovercrats" taxes, patriotism, malfeasance in office, farm relief, republican corruption. Literally the republican party was "raked over the coals."

Judge Gillis was followed by Hon. James F. Buchanan of Brenham, U. S. congressman from the 10th district, and for the last fifteen years representative of this district in Washington. Mr. Buchanan elaborated on the preceding speech, giving facts "from being on the spot and seeing," giving out many governmental statistics and discussing an adequate farm relief program. He was bitter in denunciation of party bolters and gave some high lights of the life of Sir 'Erbert 'Oover as he called him. He told of the negroes and whites working side by side in Hoover's department of commerce. He said the negroes were called "Hoover's Chocolates."

Judge R. J. Alexander, former district judge introduced the speakers. There will be a series of meetings held in each of the several communities during the next two weeks. Judge Warren Hilliard exhorted the voters to turn out November 6.

Music was furnished by the Allen Academy band from Bryan.

Miss Eldene Hays, coach, will arrive here Saturday afternoon to take charge of the rehearsals. The cast has already been selected.

FARMER IS KILLED BY KICK OF MULE

OTTO POSIVAL DIES WITHIN 30 MINUTES OF ACCIDENT THURSDAY

Otto Posival, 48, farmer at Buckholts, was almost instantly killed when kicked by a mule Thursday morning.

He had gone to a nearby pasture for a calf. A mule standing near the calf for some reason unexplained resented the approach of the farmer and attacked him. The mule knocked Mr. Posival to the ground and kicked him in the right side.

The loyalty of his dogs kept the stock as well as the enraged mule away from Mr. Posival who lay on the ground unable to rise. Mrs. Posival who was with her husband at the time of the accident, returned for help and the farmer was returned to his home where he died within about 30 minutes.

35 YEARS FOR BAGGETT FOR KILLING OF BATEY

GIVES NOTICE OF APPEAL FROM VERDICT OF JURY IN DISTRICT COURT

A sentence of 35 years in the state penitentiary was the verdict of the jury in district court here Saturday in the case of W. N. Baggett charged with the murder of Aubrey Batey. The case went to the jury late Saturday afternoon and the deliberation was short, a verdict of guilty and a penalty of 35 years in prison resulted.

Notice of appeal has been given by attorney E. A. Camp for the defendant. The state was represented by Jack Lewis.

As the last witness in his own defense against a charge of murder, W. N. Baggett, Milam county farmer, took the stand in district court here today to tell the story of the fight he had with Aubrey Batey, 23, with whose death he is charged.

The case went to the jury shortly after noon when Baggett had finished his story and arguments were to begin immediately after court reconvened this afternoon.

Claims Self-Defense

Baggett made a self-defense plea. He claimed the man he is alleged to have murdered on the night of August 5, outside a school building at Sand Grove, attacked him with a knife.

Baggett was standing at the doors of the building, he said, while a religious service was going on within when Irvn Small ran up to him and asked him for his knife. It developed later that Small was in controversy with another youth.

Meets Beatty and Wife

Baggett was in the act of handing him his knife when Small's father, the minister, interceded and asked him not to give it to him. With that Baggett stared walking away, he said.

With the knife in his hand and by chance, he said, he met Beatty and his wife coming toward the building. On meeting Beatty he asked him, according to his own testimony, this question:

"Are you looking for me, Aubrey?"

Lunges at Him

"Yes, I am," he quoted Beatty as saying. With them the younger man lunged toward him, he said.

Baggett said he does not remember exactly what happened afterward. He said he remembered trying to push Beatty off but does not remember cutting him five or six times.

Among the other witnesses Friday morning was Lon Neal, who said he met Beatty on the street in Cameron last June and in a conversation with him heard Beatty say:

Alleged Threat Told

"Baggett's talking about Ida and me and if he don't stop it I'm going to cut his throat." (Ida was Beatty's wife, the stepdaughter of the defendant.) We told Baggett about it, he said.

COTTON REPORT

There were 54,592 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Milam County from the crop of 1923 prior to October 18, 1923 as compared with 47,381 bales ginned to October 18, 1927.

RODEO IS SUCCESS

Manager Mack Akers for the American Legion Rodeo gave the spectators one of the best programs of the entire history of the rodeo here. While the show did not yield the financial returns expected, it was a success in every way and Mr. Akers is to be congratulated.

Next week we hope to be able to present the list of prize winners.

REPORTS INDICATE DEFEAT FOR HOOVER

BELIEVE REPUBLICANS TO POLL LESS THAN IN BUTTE RACE

Dallas, Texas, November 1.—A thoroughly aroused democracy will give the Democratic ticket in Texas next Tuesday such an overwhelming majority that attempts to murder the party from inside its own house will not be attempted again within a quarter of a century in the judgment of leaders of the party who have been in conference here. Jed C. Adams, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, W. A. Thomas, Campaign manager and James Young, Chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, have thoroughly canvassed the situation and concur in the belief that that instead of doing serious injury to the Democratic party the Hoover movement among deserting Democrats has committed unwritting suicide by the intemperance of its leaders.

Surveys of the situation in the 30 senatorial districts of the state have been completed and they all disclose that the Democrats generally have sickened in disgust at the antics of the opposition and are returning to the Democratic fold by the thousands. The survey discloses that the Smith-Robinson majority will far exceed what had been generally anticipated.

"We are assured now," Campaign Manager Thomas said, "that the short considerably if the Butte Report considerably if the Butte Republican vote of 1924 when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was the target for those of the Ku Klux Klan and their friends who were willing in appeasement of their political hatreds to desert their party nominees. The people of this state know defeat of the party this year would not be the beating of Smith but the defeating of the Democratic party and its principles. The opposition in Texas has been both stupid and insincere. Behind the smoke screen of prohibition ts workers have toiled like beavers to incite prejudice and hate. It is a year when many grave issues are at stake; chief of which concern the economic welfare of the men and women of this country and of future generations. The Hooverite in Texas has attempted to persuade the citizens of this state to stick their heads in the sand and be oblivious to all of these issues. Meanwhile the people have discovered for themselves that Alfred E. Smith is the outstanding champion for humanity of this time and that in him is the hope of the ground down, toiling masses of this country, and they resent the guileful efforts of a holier-than-thou group of disgruntled aforetime Democrats who would deliberately deceive them. In the matter of prohibition the voters of this state have found no satisfaction in the evasive words of the Republican candidate and they believe sincerely that Alfred E. Smith offers a better hope for enforcement of the prohibition laws than does this opponent. If they were to decide the issue on that alone Democracy in Texas would still be as triumphant as ever. The expressions of Cullen F. Thomas and Governor Dan Moody at the rousing rally in Dallas last Saturday night are indicative of the thoughts of the people of Texas. Texas will not leave the house of its fathers."

Yoemen To Clash With the Caldwell Hornets On Friday

The Yoemen will clash with the powerful Caldwell Hornets in Caldwell Friday, November 2. This game will hold the interest of all Central Texas, because it will probably determine the district winner of this section.

This game will be a hard fought battle from beginning to end, because both elevens have a powerful defense and offense as well. This is shown by the fact that both teams have scored over 150 points during the season, while each of their goal lines has been crossed only twice.

Coach Perkins is putting the Yoemen through strenuous workouts this week and will have the team in the best condition of the season for the game. It will be a determined but not over-confident eleven, which will take the field for Yoe High Friday.

Monroe Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith of Cameron, has returned home and was accompanied by his parents to Marlin this week where he underwent an operation for tonsillitis. Monroe is a student at Southwestern University at Georgetown. He has been suffering from tonsillitis for some time and his many friends hope that he will soon recover.

DR. BOETCKER REPLIES TO ATTACK MADE ON GOVERNOR SMITH

(Editor's Note—We have received from Louis Sedelmeyer of Erie, Pennsylvania the following clipping which appeared in the Erie Daily Times and was originally published as a reply to an attack on Governor Smith by a Methodist preacher who spoke in Erie. Mr. Sedelmeyer is well known in Cameron, and is a subscriber to The Herald.)

William J. H. Boetcker of the Erie Inside Association, has replied to the attack made on Governor Al Smith of New York at the Methodist Conference held here last week, in a statement to The Times.

He declares that the consensus of opinion which he has heard since the attack made by Deets Picketts, of Washington, is that Picketts did more harm than good to the Hoover campaign and that many have expressed the idea that Picketts spoke as though he might actually be in the employ of the Smith interests.

Following is the reply which Mr. Boetcker makes to the Picketts attack of last week:

Writer and undersigned read with real astonishment the part copy of address you brought in your paper last Thursday as delivered by Mr. D. Picketts of Washington, D. C., before the local meeting of ministers of the M. E. church.

This address was a tirade against Al Smith and some features of Catholicism.

May we ask you to kindly reprint the following suggestions in reply to that address.

We are sure that the speaker must have misjudged the good people of Erie—where for years clergymen of all denominations have come closer and closer together—where they have learned to like and respect each other.

It is opposed to the very spirit of Erie—to ever sneer at the beliefs and convictions or customs of others.

To adequately cover and answer all points would be impossible—and we almost wondered whether such a tirade should be dignified with a reply—for it condemns itself.

But we have heard so many comments and of the unfavorable impressions it has left behind—that we deem it our duty to submit this in reply and refutation.

COULD IT BE POSSIBLE?

The consensus of opinion of those with whom we have discussed the address was that it will have the very opposite effect—of what the speaker intended it to have.

Some even hinted and said: "I bet that man is hired and paid for by Al Smith's friends"—he goes out and abuses SMITH and thus makes him popular by making him appear to be a martyr.

The intentions of Mr. Pickett might have been alright—we do question whether his judgment was right—for politicians know, that a sure way to help a candidate is to abuse and malign him.

The American people like to see a fair deal and a square deal, and public sentiment will invariably turn to help the underdog or support the one who is being abused.

Has not the Republican chairman again and again warned against such methods? Have not both national committees advocated a clean campaign without any personalities and mud-slinging?

God pity Hoover—if he needs such defenders.

Would the American people ever count it against and not rather in favor of a man who is loyal to the religion of his mother and the religion and language in which his mother taught him to pray?

RESPECT FOR CHURCH AND CLERGY

Mr. Pickett tries to make fun of the respect the Catholics show for those who have dedicated their lives to the service of God and humanity, i. e. their clergymen and those whom they look upon as servants of God and representatives of God and his church.

Could some Protestant people learn a little from such "honor to whom honor is due"?

Is that one of the common American national vices of irreverence and disrespect preferable?

Is it not weakening the Protestant churches when its members or many of them consider it a favored sport to belittle and destructively criticize their own ministers, find fault with them and break their hearts with mud-slinging and character assassination?

Is it any wonder that the younger people begin to look down upon those who are supposed to be their pastors—that is shepherds to lead them right?

KNEELING DOWN

Mr. P. apparently can not understand why Roman Catholic people will—as a sign of respect and esteem—kneel down before those whom they look up to and whom they revere for what they represent.

Why do we, as Americans, salute the flag? Surely not the flag itself but what it represents.

There was a time when the writer would never have knelt down before any mortal man, not even before a king, as so many Americans do and have done when their un-American ambition to be presented at court had been satisfied.

I have changed my mind. I would at any time kneel down to show respect for those whom I honor because they know more and are better than I am. I certainly would kneel down before my father, my mother and would certainly not hesitate to kneel down before the mother of our children or a minister and servant of God, the latter for what he represents.

TOO SACRED TO JOKE ABOUT

Writer has always held, that there are at least two things too sacred to joke about and that is love and religion.

We are a Protestant minister—Presbyterian. Have filled pulpits in this and other cities of practically all denominations—but we—from the bottom of our heart, protest against this venomous language and malicious spirit and the way in which this address was delivered, as unbecoming a Christian man.

While stating that he would not say anything against or cast any reflection upon the millions of honest, devout Catholics—he with the same breath slurs and makes light of things that are and must be sacred to every Catholic.

LODGES AND SCHOOLS

Mr. Pickett says that the Roman Catholic church forbids its members to belong to the Masonic lodge or Odd Fellows, etc.—(writer is a Mason) but there are hundreds of Lutheran churches—like Missouri Synod and others that do the same—as it is against their own peculiar views and convictions.

Why hold it up against the Roman Catholic church for having Parochial schools—when hundreds of Lutheran churches and other denominations have their own parochial schools and insist that the members send their children to these private schools.

Why not respect and even give them credit for their belief—based upon the Bible—that an education without religion is like a building without a foundation.

Is not the fear of God the beginning of all wisdom?

ENEMIES OF CATHOLICISM

Mr. Pickett speaks of enemies of Catholicism.

What does he mean? What does he refer to?

Would any true Christian ever call himself such an enemy?

Are there not hundreds of millions of sincere Roman Catholic people to whom their church is the MOTHER church? Is she not the mother church for all Protestant churches?

Their allegiance to the pope as the head of the church and his supremacy in all religious matters is just as logical and justified—as to me the command that man must obey GOD more than men.

In religious matters even to me and the Protestants—the conscience—our religious convictions and obedience to GOD are supreme and go above and over the allegiance I owe this state.

God knows—while I was not born in this great country—no man could love America more and deeper than we do.

Yet—if it came to my own conscience and the voice of God within us—we would disregard the claws of the state and obey GOD and follow our conscience first.

Thank God—our country is great and big enough to recognize this and again—thank God—we can be reasonably sure that no American will ever be asked by his country or state to do anything that is wrong.

AGAINST DRINKING

That there may be no misunderstanding—I agree with the speaker as to the curse of drink—I have been against it long before the Volstead law was passed. Have published and distributed millions of pieces of literature against drunkenness—gambling—immorality and other vices.

But we know of many highminded and honest thinking men who believe that the present Prohibition Law and other measures could be greatly improved upon.

Writer believes, that any law to force men to be good is a foredoomed failure.

While we believe in enforcement of LAW—we believe that no LAW ever has and ver will solve a real problem for the law does not and can not reach the inside of man—only education from within will ultimately solve it.

But as a man's real calibre is measured by his consideration for others, we suggest to have some consideration for those who have own honest convictions—and who believe that they are right from their own point of view.

The only way to make them think and act differently is to change their point of view but not with abuse and ridicule and sarcasm—which generally are the weapons of cowards.

BE LIKE THAT?

While attending an Americanization congress in Washington D. C., in 1919—we heard Franklin Lane—the then secretary of interior, address the delegates as follows:

If we want to Americanize the foreigners—we imply that we want them to wish to become like us—but when I think how sometimes misguided American born men treat the foreigners—I can hardly blame them if they do not want to become like us.

So—he continued—let us Americanize the Americans first—so that all foreigners really would like to become like us.

Likewise we say—if we want to Christianize the world—we imply we want others to become like us—

But—let us Christianize the Christians first—so that others want to become like that.

We would like to ask all the fair-minded and big-thinking people of Erie—read the address referred to—see the spirit between the lines and we ask you—would you like to be like that?

If that is a sample of the spirit of Protestantism—we repudiate it as un-Christian—we would almost be inclined to join the Roman Catholic church—for in 26 years we never heard a Roman Catholic priest or even a layman speak in such hatred betraying language about any Protestant.

We have attended many special meetings—for men, etc.—in Roman Catholic churches—heard many powerful sermons—which could have been delivered in any Protestant church but never, never have we heard a single word showing the slightest animosity towards the Protestants or their beliefs and customs.

Mr. Pickett certainly proved, that he did not only not understand but—what is worse—that he misunderstands a great many things about the Roman Catholic church.

OUT OF POLITICS

Just as truly as we believe, that woman's greatest influence upon the destiny of a nation is exerted at the cradle and not at the ballot box—so firmly we believe, that the ministers and the churches greatest god is accomplished in the pulpit—preaching Christian virtues—honesty—justice—truth—a life of duty.

The church must furnish the men—educate and develop from within but not step out and down into political quarrels.

$100.00 REWARD

Having worked in Erie (and now live here) for past ten years—we have come in contact with most Roman Catholic priests—and thousands of sincere Roman Catholic people.

While we remember a number of times when Protestant ministers endorsed candidates and openly advocated the election of some special men, we have never heard from any Catholic, that his priest had ever commanded or even suggested to him how to vote.

We are so positive of our contention that we agree to forfeit $100.00 cash to anyone who will produce some one who will prove or make a sworn affidavit that he or she had been ordered and told "how to vote" by any Catholic priest of Erie, possibly with some implied threat, as we have heard it said.

NEW PENTACOST

Writer was happy to think, that we had lived to see the day—when here in Erie—and many other cities—clergymen of all denominations met—sat at the same table—worked together to solve common problems and at the same time respecting each other's convictions.

Many times we hoped for and predicted, that a new Pentacost was coming—a day when all humanity would be united again—when all God-Christ and truth loving peoples of the earth would speak and understand the same language of love and charity and consideration for all—when we again would look upon others as brothers and children of the same Father.

The day—when universal brotherhood will become a reality through and by recognizing Universal Fatherhood of God.

But—if such hateful addresses are the sentiment of but a small minority of the Protestant people—we fear that day is as yet far off—and all those writers and thinkers who have for years pointed out the threatening clouds on the horizon of the Protestant churches and predicted a general decadence may yet some day prove to have been true prophets.

NO PROTEST

While attending some Women's convention in Washington, D. C., some years ago we were dumbfounded, when a prominent society woman from New York city read a paper in which she expressed her opinion that she was convinced, that "the day would come, when civilized (?) society would not expect a refined and cultured woman to go through the pains and burdens of motherhood—but that the state or some organization would see to it, that some cruder woman of other nationalities would be asked and requested to bear the children and to perpetuate the human race."

To say, what we then thought—would make this article unprintable. But—while we could understand that in this age of mental perversion some misguided woman could lose her way and fall so low and make such suggestions—we felt outraged to see, that not a single member arose to take exception—to protest against that "paper" as an insult to our own mothers—the mothers who gave us George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, our President Coolidge and all these millions of loving women who look upon motherhood as a crown of glory—as a divine privilege and upon children as a divine blessing.

Likewise we can understand that some well-meaning but misguided Zealot can lose his way and make such an address before a ministerial association—but we would like to know—did all those who heard this talk and harangue just sit by and even applaud? Did anyone have backbone enough to arise and protest against such tirades and mudslinging and go on record with an address that defies every one of the fundamental principles of brotherly love as preached and lived by that gentle Nazarene.

Did anyone state that the spirit of that address did not represent but misrepresent the rank and file of those present?

THE WOMAN VOTE

The popular appraisal of the modern woman depends more and more on what she has in mind when she approaches the ballot box. When she casts her vote in support of the political views we have expressed, we are thoroughly convinced that the extension of the suffrage to every woman was merely a recognition of her just rights and that her interest in national problems is having a fine influence upon the government. When she votes the other way we all wonder whether women ever will learn the first principles of politics, and begin to speculate upon how much more secure the government would be if the women would confine their efforts to activities in the home. Our evaluation of woman suffrage depends entirely upon whether she is for us or against us.

HOOVER VS. SMITH

Hoover endorses Coolidge's administration and will continue its policies. Thus he endorses the corruption, graft, malfeasance in office and betrayal of public interest of Fall Dougherty, Denby, Hays and Mellon. He endorses the use of the secret code of the Department of Justice to keep the miscreants informed. Hoover, a Cabinet Member, accepted power trust money to make speeches in their favor. Coolidge vetoed farm relief measures without offering any substitutes—so will Hoover. Before becoming a presidential candidate, Hoover stated low prices for farm products and attendant bankruptcy were the solutions of surplus crops and his idea of farm relief.

Hoover endorsed the market predictions which cost the cotton farmers several hundred million dollars. Hoover, as Secretary of Commerce, forces white female stenographers to work along side negroes, thus promoting racial friction.

Assistant Attorney General Willbrand, contrary to the Constitution, in violation of the principles of Americanism, unethically requested a Convention of Methodist ministers to raise the religious issue in this campaign. Hoover condoned and approved.

Alfred E. Smith is honest, straight forward, and never evades an issue, combines the homely honesty of Lincoln and Jackson with the audacious courage of Roosevelt and the tolerant views of Jefferson; believes in a government of the people, by the people and for the people, instead of a government of privileges, for pillage thru graft. Smith sponsored and has put across through a hostile Republican Legislature more constructive legislation beneficial to the masses, than has been passed by any other man in the history of this Republic. Governor Smith's position on water power, farm relief, foreign relations, is unequalled.

With Mr. Hoover heartily endorsing the corruption of the past eight years no truthful, fair minded, thinking man can charge Smith with the corruption of Boss Tweed which occurred over fifty years ago.

Hoover endorses corruption—Smith has constantly fought corruption. The people of New York state, normally Republican, have given Mr. Smith the stamp of approval by electing him four times as Governor.

Failing to find in the record anything against Governor Smith, religious bigots have to go back fifty years and dig up the skeleton of Tweed. Let us go back to the dark days of reconstruction and charge Hoover with all the crimes of his party's past, Mark Hanna included.

Two thousand years ago Christ was crucified upon the Cross of religious intolerance, through the prejudiced testimony of the 'Money Changers' He had run out of the Temple, those grafting corruptionists, the Scribes and Pharisees. Does the slander, hypocrisy and bigotry of present day religious intolerants parallel the Crucifixion of Christ?

CATHOLIC OR QUAKER?

The following letter, written by Hon. S. E. Juden, of Caruthersville, Missouri, to the St. Louis Post Dispatch, should be of interest to our readers and we take pleasure in reproducing it.

"There is a whispering campaign being waged against Governor Smith by political pulpsters and others in an effort to defeat him for President, solely because he is a Catholic. It is regrettable that such be the case in a country which guarantees religious liberty. We hear no one condemning Mr. Hoover on account of him being a Quaker. Let's see which has the better claim on the American people from the standpoint of Church affiliation.

It was a Catholic Queen who enthusiastically aided Columbus, a Catholic, in fitting out ships to make the voyage that resulted in the discovery of America. America took its name from Amerigo Vespucci, a Catholic, who assisted Columbus to fit out ships and who himself made later voyages of discovery. Marquis de Lafayette, a Catholic, organized and equipped a regiment of French Catholics and came to the aid of Geo. Washington during the Revolution, and assisted in the capture of the British at Yorktown. Count Pulaski, Rochambeau and De Kalb were all Catholics. Catholics signed the Declaration of Independence. American Catholics have fought side by side with American Protestants and American Jews in every war in which this country has been engaged. When our country declared war against Germany in 1917 and called for volunteers seventy per cent of those who responded were Catholics. Their loyalty and devotion to our country and our flag has been proved on every battle field where American blood has been spilled. "The Star Spangled Banner" was written by a Catholic. The songs "Dixie" and "My Bonnie Blue Flag" were written by Catholics.

And since Governor Smith's enemies have brought the question of religion into this campaign, let's raise the curtain and take a look at the church to which Herbert Hoover belongs. What claim on that score can be urged upon the American people? Can the Quaker church show as good a record for loyalty as the Catholics? It makes my blood boil to contemplate the record. Our laws provide that one who has conscientious scruples against war may be exempted from military service upon making oath to that fact. The Quakers have never failed to make the oath to avoid a fight for their country. They refused to be buddies with the red blooded Catholics, Protestants and Jews of America. The Quakers were not at Bunker Hill, Saratoga or Yorktown. They were not at Gettysburg, Antietam or Shiloh. They were not at San Juan Hill and they were not at Chateau Thierry. Tens of thousands of gallant Catholic lads lie buried in Flanders soil, but not a Quaker grave is there.

I am a Protestant and a Thirty Second Degree Mason. If religion is to be the real issue in this campaign, let Governor Smith's enemies say so. If that is to be the battle cry, we accept the challenge. Governor Smith is a Catholic. Herbert Hoover is a Quaker. There the two men are. Take your choice.

MISSISSIPPI OPPOSES HOOVER ON GROUND OF HIS RELIGIOUS BELIEF

(Editor's Note: The following article is taken from a recent issue of the Memphis Commercial Appeal with the sole purpose of presenting a view which is contrary to the ideas of most people, or perhaps which has not come to the attention of most people. Many objections have been registered from time to time by various people to Gov. Smith's candidacy sometimes disguised as his so-called "wetness," sometimes plainly stated as being because of his religion and in most instances the real basic reason being the latter. This newspaper claims the right of presenting another and an entirely different view—possibly not a valid objection to register against Mr. Hoover (this depends entirely on the personal viewpoint), but at any rate fully as logical as the objection against Smith on account of his affiliation with the Catholic church. The minds of the recent war is not so the minds of many but that the minds of many of Col. Yandell's arguments are easily corroborated.)

At this time there are lots of letters written for and against the two nominees of the major political parties, Smith and Hoover. In my section of the country, the South, a few religious bigots and intolerants are against Gov. Smith because he is a Catholic. They are hiding behind a smoke screen and saying it is because he, Smith, is wet. In fact, Governor Smith is not wet, but is a State's Rights Democrat and believes in each state deciding its liquor question. This is the doctrine of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. If you will sound these religious bigots out, ninety per cent of them will acknowledge they are against Governor Smith because he is a Catholic, and not because he thinks each state should decide its own liquor problems.

I wish to state that I am a Protestant and Master Mason, and have been since I reached legal age, and I am for Smith. The Catholic church was my church and your church for 1500 years. Some of the greatest men of the world have been Catholics. When Carroll, a Catholic, signed the Declaration of Independence, we did not cry, "Stop you are a Catholic." When LaFayette, a Catholic, fitted out a regiment at his own expense in France and came to America and fought beside Washington for our Independence we did not cry, "Go back, LaFayette, you are a Catholic." We welcomed Count Pulaski, Rochambeau and De Kalb, all Catholics, during the Revolutionary War. Does the fact that the Star Spangled Banner was written by a Catholic keep the words from being as sweet? The songs Dixie and My Bonnie Blue Flag were written by Catholics, General Beauregard and Admiral Ralph Semmes were Catholics, but no one fought harder for the South, while on the other hand Rosecrans and Thomas, who were Catholics, fought for the North during the Civil War. During the World War Marshall Foch, a Catholic, was commander of the Allied armies.

Some people say "Catholics all vote together." This is not true. France and Mexico, both have 90 per cent Catholic, have Protestants and Masons as presidents.

I enlisted in the army April 7, 1917, the day after war was declared, and was in the army until after the armistice was signed. When we left our homes and loved ones our people escorted us to our trains with brass bands, and there, with tears in our eyes, we told our mothers, wives and sweethearts goodby, and they with prayers on their lips, bade us Godspeed to stop the murderous Huns. They told us there would be nothing too good for us when we returned. We fought for 18 months on foreign soil to make "the world safe for democracy." We left many of our buddies sleeping in Flanders' snowclad fields never to return. Over there we had Protestants and Catholics, Gentiles and Jews, but there were no Quakers there. It makes my blood run hot when I think of being at Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y., and seeing a large group of Quakers sent home, they being conscientious objectors and opposed to war for any cause whatsoever. We had a man in our outfit who was a low-grade man and under indictment when he was drafted. When we were getting our final examinations before going overseas this man claimed there was no need to give him a physical examination. The medical officer asked why and he said "Because I am a Quaker and a conscientious objector." The medical officer got his service record and said, "Why you are a Baptist." He said, "I have changed since I have been up here." If you have any doubt as to the patriotism of the Catholics of this country, by writing to the adjutant general you will find that approximately 70 per cent of the volunteer army during the World War was Catholic.

I am not a religious bigot or intolerant and Hoover being a Quaker would not keep me from voting for him for secretary of state, state auditor or attorney general, but the president of the United States is commander in chief of our army and navy, and to have a Quaker who is opposed to war for any cause whatsoever would be a dangerous thing. I am of the opinion that the American flag could be insulted, knocked down and trampled under foot and he would be opposed to war. The Quakers have all the protection of our flag, but they have never defended it from Revolutionary War to the World War.

The sergeant major of my regiment was a Catholic and a Knight of Columbus. He died with his head in my lap, his last words were, "Buddy I won't be with you to help break the Hindenburg line, but you do your part and mine, too."

When I came back from France I was unanimously elected first post commander of the American Legion post at Mayfield, Ky. I have been associated closely with ex-service men ever since and I am of the opinion that 85 per cent of the World War veterans will not vote for a Quaker for commander in chief of the army and navy, regardless of their past political affiliations. I think it would be a slap in the face of every World War veteran to elect a Quaker, a man whose sect and religious cult is opposed to war from any cause whatsoever, commander in chief of the American army and navy.

I am yours for a patriotic country.

NEW YORK TICKET IMPRESSES NATION

Candidates Named by Governor
Smith—Not One Affiliated With Tammany.

ROOSEVELT SUPPORTED BY REPUBLICAN PRESS

A distinctly favorable reaction to the nomination by the Democratic party of Franklin D. Roosevelt for Governor of New York State is perceived by political observers in almost every State of the Union.

Nobody in New York has any doubt that he will be elected. One of the most able and most highly respected figures in the history of American politics, he is said to be sure of the largest majority ever received by a candidate for Governor. His presence on the Democratic ticket, coupled with the fact that he is one of Governor Smith's closest friends, leaves the Hoover forces without hope in the Empire State.

But what is of greater significance, since no well-informed person has ever doubted the Governor's ability to carry his own State, is the reaction to Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy in the West and South. His consent to become the nominee, at Governor Smith's request, has made ridiculous the "Tammany cry" with which Republican campaign managers have attempted to influence voters in the districts unfamiliar with the Governor's record.

Tammany Not Represented

Mr. Roosevelt has never been affiliated with Tammany Hall, nor any other political machine. In fact, not a single candidate on the State ticket, which was in actuality named from top to bottom by Governor Smith, has any connection with Tammany.

New York Republican leaders acknowledge that, unlike their own candidate who is linked with the big power interests, Mr. Roosevelt is invulnerable to attack. A distinguished official of the Wilson Administration, in which he served as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1920, he consistently refused to run for Governor until pressed to do so by Governor Smith.

One significant reaction to Governor Smith's choice of a man of such character and reputation to succeed him at Albany is the defection of two strong Hoover newspapers in New York, the Sun and the Telegram, both of which announced editorially that they would support the Democratic candidate for Governor.

To Preserve Smith Ideals

WARM SPRINGS, Ga.—Explaining why he had consented to be drafted by the party leaders of New York state, after his previous refusal to accept the nomination for Governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt said:

"It was because they felt and I felt that the whole splendid structure of government built up by Governor Smith and all the high ideals of service to the people which he had established were in peril that caused me to accept the nomination."

"That is something too important to let any personal considerations weigh in the slightest. I am in this fight not to win personal honor, but for the carrying forward of the policies of Governor Smith."

HAM

Cameron remembers well the Hamm and Ramsey meeting here. Evangelist Hamm has become quite active in this campaign against Governor Smith. The latest was a rampage in Asheville North, Carolina. In his column "The Passing Scene," Thornwell Haynes has the following to say:

"One notes the coming to Asheville during the past week of a Reverend M. F. Hamm. Sounds good. At least to a hungry man. Even if there are no eggs. It now appeareth that Mr. Hamm knows all that has ever been known, all that is known, and all that ever will be known."

Mr. Hamm, in fact, goes further. He knows all that ever has been known, all that is not now known, and all that never will be known.

He has come to save North Carolina. To save its children and its children's children. Not a word about granddaddies.

"Every living soul that votes for Al Smith will be cursed by God Almighty." Thus calleth to the world this ham-and-eggless hijacker. If there's anything worse which can happen to a community than being afflicted with such ravings it hath not yet appeared.

Among all the millions God will strike I am particularly sorry for Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton. He has written so many beautiful books, and has lived such a cultured, spiritual life—and now to be cursed of God.

And there's Dr. Alderman, of the University of Virginia. And there are the seventy Harvard professors. Thousands and thousands of others.

The tragedy of Christ is not that his enemies put him to death once, it is that his disciples crucify him daily. They hang him on the crosses of ignorance, illiberality and vulgarity.

They betray his love, misrepresent his graciousness and mock his grandeur.

I care not for the Christ which Mr. Ham represents, for touching my Christ Mr. Ham bears the seed of Judas.

"Peace on earth and good will to men."

Is this Mr. Ham's message? Please do not believe it. He thunders from Sinai. No touch of a winter night full of stars for him. Away with the angels and the shepherds.

And Mr. Ham has come all the way from Oklahoma.

IF IT'S RELIGION GO TO IT

Speaking of loyalty and religion, of all the volunteers (who were fellows who didn't wait to be drafted) that fought on the battle fields of France in the World War, seventy per cent of them were Catholics and, we are told, not a single son of them was a Quaker. When attempted to be drafted Quakers raised their right hand to heaven and swore they were "conscientiously opposed to war for any purpose and under all circumstances."

Our law provides that "conscientious objectors" are excused from military service. The idea of having civilization and the honor of the American flag was repugnant to the meek and devout Quakers, whose souls quaked at the thought of being buddies with the red-blooded Catholics, Jews and Protestants who died on Flanders field. Not a single Quaker sleeps in that sacred soil.

This country won its independence from England through the Revolutionary war, aided by Lafayette, a Catholic, who at his own expense brought over here an army of French Catholics who were responsible for the capture of the British at Yorktown which gave us our liberty. There were no Quakers present to see the British commander surrender his sword to Washington. If this country was populated solely by Quakers we would today be living under the crown of England.

Alfred E. Smith is a Catholic. Herbert Hoover is a Quaker. There they are. Take your choice.—Democrat-Argus, Caruthersville, Missouri.

Many in W.C.T.U. Revolt And Work to Elect Smith

Prominent members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, outraged at seeing that long respected organization being used as a political machine, are everywhere rising in revolt, as reported in despatches to the New York World and Times.

Throughout the country and especially in the South, intelligent and sincere women, including many of the most active workers for temperance, are publicly condemning what they declare to be an attempt to dupe their more credulous associates by the circulation of slanderous falsehoods and thinly veiled appeals to religious hatred.

Among the well known prohibitionists to express amazement and indignation over the intolerant political campaign being waged in the name of the W. C. T. U. is Mrs. B. L. Stafford, past chairman of the W. C. T. U. in Mobile, Alabama, and a prominent member of the Baptist church.

Dry Propaganda False

Another well known Alabama woman, Mrs. T. Darrington Semple, head of the famous Semple School for Girls, declared:

"It's about time we tore away the subterfuge of prohibition and admit the opposition to Governor Smith in the South is based wholly on religious grounds. The insidious propaganda of the whispering campaign should be denounced in the strongest words we can think of."

One of the leading members of the W. C. T. U. who have denounced the part taken in the present campaign by those who have usurped control of the organization, is Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkinson, of Monroe, Nebraska. A State Director of Publicity for the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Jenkinson resigned as a protest against the anti-Smith campaign. She is now assistant manager of the Agricultural League of Nebraska, which is working actively for Governor Smith election.

In Portsmouth, Va., Mrs. Carrie Sykes, a Methodist Church communicant, describing herself as a "lifelong member" of the W. C. T. U., has resigned because of statements made at a recent banquet of the Virginia State organization by a prominent W. C. T. U. official.

The legal adviser of the W. C. T. U. in Georgia, Mrs. Betty R. Cobb of Carrollton, resigned following the board's decision to support Hoover. She then volunteered her services to the Democratic State Campaign Committee in the belief that Smith's election guaranteed a better chance for real enforcement than the Republican record of graft and corruption.

Because she disliked the effort of the W. C. T. U. to boost Hoover, Mrs. Mayme H. Adams of Livingston, Cal., resigned as State director of outdoor exhibits and fairs for the California W. C. T. U., at the same time resigning the Presidency of the Livingston Chapter. Mrs. Adams also feels that the election of Smith would tend toward better enforcement of National Prohibition.

"Don't Be Deceived"

A member of the Alabama Executive Committee of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Mabel Jones West of Birmingham, has announced that she will support Gov. Smith, and is appealing to the women of her State "not to be deceived by paid Republican propaganda." Mrs. West also is an active worker in the Baptist church.

Mrs. J. B. Houton of Charleston, W. Va., a W. C. T. U. leader for more than seventeen years, has been speaking in favor of Smith.

A prominent member of the Presbyterian Church in Jefferson City, Mo., and an ardent worker in the W. C. T. U., Mrs. John P. Gordon, wife of the former State Auditor of Missouri, is aiding Smith.

Mrs. Amanda Gilchrist, descendant of a line of Methodist and Baptist preachers, a "white ribbon" veteran, and W. C. T. U. worker for many years, is another Missouri woman, who although a Republican, is for Governor Smith because of what she calls the "damnable curse of Prohibition."

These are only a few of the sincere W. C. T. U. members who are reported in all parts of the country, to be rising in arms against the "unwomanly, un-Christian and intemperate policy of the present leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union."

The Lost Chord

The sweetest strain that ever graced God's sanctuary responded to the organ's efforts but once, and then departed never to return. Likewise we come and go to-day, but tomorrow may find us gone forever.

It is at this hour when the heart of the bereft is bowed down with grief that we are able to offer solace by our anticipation of your every wish and our sincere ministrations.

Lesson for November 4

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

LESSON TEXT—Romans 13:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.PRIMARY TOPIC—Obedience to Law.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Obedience to Law.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Reasons for Prohibition.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Standing for Law Enforcement.

I. The Christian's Obligation to the State (vv. 1-7).

The believer in Christ is a citizen as well as a Christian. Intelligent Christians will be loyal to the state as well as to the church. Failure to recognize this has brought Christianity into disrepute in many quarters.

1. Obedience to rulers (vv. 1-4).

This obligation is upon all Christians. The reason is that civil government is ordained of God and rulers are His representatives. To refuse obedience to civil authority is to resist God. This does not mean that a Christian at the behest of the state should do that which is inherently wrong. Submission to rightly constituted authority is the law of the believer's life, not only because God is the source of civil authority, but because it was ordained for beneficent ends.

2. The spirit in which the Christian renders obedience to rulers (v. 5).

He should regard it as his obligation, not merely because it serves a good purpose, but because it is morally right. It is a conscientious obligation to obey lawful rulers.

3. Method of expressing this obedience (vv. 6, 7).

(1) In the payment of personal and property taxes.
The citizens who enjoys the benefits of government is morally bound to support it.

(2) Payment of duty upon merchandise and license fees.

The business exchange between nations must be regulated. For such regulations expense is incurred, for which benefit the citizen should pay.

(3) Veneration of magistrates ("fear to whom fear").

Those who have the fear of God in their hearts will venerate their rulers, God's representatives.

(4) "Honor to whom honor."

This means that civil officers should be honored because of their service.

II. The Christian's Obligation to His Fellow Citizens (vv. 8-10).

This is summed up in the word "love." This obligation is perpetual. The only debt which is right to owe is that of love. The discharge of this obligation forbids:

(1) Defrauding in matters of property (v. 8).

(2) It forbids going into debt with no certainty of being able to meet one's obligation.

(3) It forbids defrauding in matters of moral purity (v. 9). Where the life is under the power of love, adultery cannot be committed.

(4) It forbids murder.

(5) It forbids stealing.

(6) It forbids coveting.

(7) It forbids the working of any ill to one's neighbor.

III. The Supreme Motive Governing the Life of the Christian (vv. 11-14).

The attitude of the Christian is that of eager expectancy. There is no time for slumber or indifference. The time of salvation is drawing near. The salvation here mentioned is not that which we obtain in justification and sanctification, but is that which we get when our redemption is completed in glorification at the second coming of Christ. Redemption is threefold:

1. Justification through faith in the blood of Jesus.

2. Sanctification through the obedience of the Word.

3. Glorification, when the fullness of redemption shall be realized at Christ's second coming.

The reasons for this attitude of expectancy are that the night of Christ's absence is far spent and the day of His glorious appearing is at hand. The proper conduct in view of this is:

1. To put off the works of darkness (v. 12), which are revelling, drunkenness, chambering, wantonness, strife and jealousy. The child of light will not walk in drunken carousals, will not practice licentious acts and debauchery, neither engage in strife, nor be under the spell of jealousy.

2. Put on the armor of light (v. 12).

The figure here is of the Roman soldier who arose from sleep and put on his slumber robes and put on his gleaming armor.

3. Put on the Lord Jesus Christ (v. 14).

This means to enthrone Jesus Christ as the Lord of the life, to bring the life under His control.

Be Thou an Example

Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.—Paul.

Twice Healed In Prayer Revival Is Claim Made Here

Sunday night will close the Davis revival which has been in progress here for the past six weeks. During the time that Evangelist Albert E. Davis and his party of workers have been in Cameron, scores of persons have claimed to have been healed by prayer and have professed conversion.

Among the recent testimonies of healing was that given by Mrs. Elmo Vaughn of Cameron, who said she was healed of asthma during this revival. Mrs. Vaughn has been a constant sufferer for the past three years and the night before she was healed she almost died from an attack of asthma, she said. Since her healing more than a week ago, she has not had a trace of asthma, she said.

A. C. Worthey of Maysfield, who was prayed for last week, testified Tuesday night that he was healed instantly of constant pain in his back, which had bothered him for 15 years.

Mrs. Lula Hayes of Cameron testified that she was healed twice in this revival. The first time she was healed of headaches, backaches, stomach and ear trouble. Later in the meeting she had a fall that injured her back seriously, she said and was healed of that instantly when she was prayed for.

"What Think Ye of Christ?" was the subject of an interesting sermon delivered by Evangelist Davis Sunday night. In this he called up witnesses from Old Testament as well as New Testament times to learn what they had to say about Christ. Even modern poets and scholars appeared on the witness stand to tell of what they thought of Christ. Davis declared that there are only two classes of people in the world today: Christians and sinners. "Every person declares by his way of living the class that he belongs to. There is no half-way ground and I am sick of hearing folk say that they are Christians but they know they are not living right."

The revival will close Sunday night. This week has brought scores of persons who are seeking healing to the meeting.

BANK IS CLOSED

The Rosebud State Bank has been closed and its affairs liquidated, all depositors being paid in full. The bank was re-chartered and re-opened some time ago when $40,000 of its assets were said to have been embezzled by an absconding official. The officials of the bank enjoy the confidence of the people of that city but on account of economic conditions and the fact that Rosebud now has two banks, the Rosebud State has been discontinued.

Freshmen of Yoe High In Halloween Celebration Here

Members of the Freshman class of Yoe High school enjoyed a Halloween party at the Ada Henderson gymnasium Tuesday evening. In accordance with the usual custom, everyone wore fancy costumes, representing the season, and masks.

Upon arriving, guests entered a witch room and were greeted by a ghost who shook hands with a "rubber" hand. This witch then escorted them to ghosts who each had a different experience for them. The first allowed them to feel the finger of a dear friend—a piece of cotton dipped in catsup; the second gave them a ball of hot cotton to hold; the third lived in a dark and sepulchral place where terrible groans were heard; and last they were conducted across bed springs to meet their partner a skeleton who threw a sheet over them to embrace them. A flashlight was turned on this skeleton as he advanced, illuminating his bones.

The guests were next led into the gymnasium proper where Mrs. Davis, dressed as a witch, told fortunes by reading palms. Games were played such as bobbing for apples, eating strings of marshmallows and a smile game in which cutout black cats were given as souvenirs. Another fortune telling device was the black cauldron, from which fortunes written in invisible ink were taken, and these had to be read by means of a light.

Sandwiches and soda water were served at a late hour with Mary Newton as toastmistress. The sponsors, Misses Neeley and Vegt, had charge of the entertainment and they were assisted by Mrs. Gordon Baskin as the witch, Otis Tindall as the skeleton and Mrs. Davis as the palmist. J. H. Sevier of the high school faculty was a guest.

Student Nurses Are Entertained Here

The student nurses of the Cameron Hospital were entertained by the Federation of Missionary Societies at the home of Mrs. Leland Green with a delightful Halloween luncheon Friday. The home was decorated with all the emblems, signs and symbols of the season of witches, owls, spooks, black cats and bats. The lights were shaded by pumpkin lanterns.

Each guest was given a spooky cap to wear and all found their places at the table by black cats bearing their names. Individual pumpkin pies were opened and many dainty things were found therein fit for a king. Mrs. J. C. Martin dressed as a pierrette served hot chocolate.

Mrs. J. P. Love made a talk after which games were played until time of departure.

The following guests were present: Misses Lewis, Baskin, Shipp, Curry, Massingale, Moraw, Merka Schiller, Duncan, Brautigan, Allen and Sharpe and Mrs. O. D. Anderson of Waco. Hostesses: Mesdames Green Love, Pollard, Martin, Lindsey and Killian.

Doing Their Bit For The National Ticket

One of the appreciated services to the campaign in Milam County has been rendered by Miss Lilian Harris, Misses Edna and Mildred Slama. As members of the Pioneer Band they have appeared to sing the "Sidewalks of New York" and have been applauded and complimented by the Democrats.

The Pioneer Band under J. T. Pacmas has been of great assistance to the committee in the campaign.

Another Letter Here On Graf Zeppelin

The Herald is glad to note that Fritz Ohlenbusch of Ben Arnold has received a letter from his only sister in Germany a letter this week. The letter came by mail on the Graf Zeppelin, the trans-atlantic ship of the air flown to this country two weeks ago by the party of German officials. Last week we reported a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Mitchell from a relative of Mrs. Mitchell in Germany on the Graf Zeppelin.

Fish Arrive Here For Lakes of Cameron

A truck load of fish for the lakes and streams about Cameron were delivered here Tuesday by the government from the postoffice.

The fish, small, but in large numbers being bass and croppie in variety will thrive in this section. They were brought here by a representative of the hatcheries on order of citizens who had placed orders last year for the fish to stock the streams and lakes.

We especially thank those who gave flowers and all who assisted us in any way during the illness and death of our son and brother, Emil Michalka.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michalka, Sr. and Family.

Confederate Daughters Urge Passage of Aid To Widows of Vets

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by Jeff Rogers Chapter No. 1513, United Daughters of the Confederacy of Cameron:

"Realizing the injustice being done some of the worthy widows of Confederate soldiers by operation of the arbitrary law denying pensions to widows born since 1861, we urge upon the voter of Texas the adoption of the amendment to the State Constitution, at the election next Tuesday, giving authority to the Legislature to make such changes as needed."

The Turn of The Tide

Thus far Governor Smith has been campaigning in the States where he is least well known and therefore in territory where the underground propaganda has been most effective. His success has been amazing. No competent observer can have any doubt that the contrast between Mr. Hoover's silence, evasions and irrelevances, on the one hand, and Governor Smith's plain speaking, on the other, has made a profound impression on the voters. declares the New York World.

Everywhere the question is being asked: What keeps Herbert Hoover from speaking his mind? Why can't he say what he thinks about water power, farm relief, prohibition? Why does he have to make a fake issue out of the tariff? Why do his spellbinders have to misrepresent Governor Smith's position on immigration? Why, when every intelligent business man knows it is absurd, does Mr. Hoover, who eight years ago appealed for a Democratic Congress, now pretend to believe that the Republicans have a patent on prosperity? In less than a month of campaigning Governor Smith has unsettled, exposed and discredited the Republican campaign strategy. He has already reversed the whole trend of opinion in the South and West.

The Republicans, who thought that the South would change its allegiance to the Democratic Party at the behest of Southern bigots and fanatics, must know by this time that Bishop Cannon, Dr. Straton and Mrs. Willebrandt have failed. Southern leaders know better than any one else that to turn over their States to the so-called Hoover Democrats is to surrender to the worst elements in their communities. The border States from West Virginia to Oklahoma are fighting ground; the bigots and fanatics have done their worst, and the liberals are on the offensive. In the West, from Wisconsin to Colorado, the whole Progressive vote, which followed Roosevelt, Wilson and La Follette, has been moving steadily toward Smith since the Omaha speech.

The Republicans know all this quite well, and in the last ten days they have done their best to conceal the greatness of the tide toward Smith by a propaganda of defeatism among the bandwagon voters.

For an historical parallel, it is necessary to go back to the victory of Andrew Jackson in 1822 and of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. For today, as in those two epochal campaigns, a multitude of American voters, hitherto disregarded by the party in power, have found a champion and a program. No dopester studying the figures of 1924 and 1920 can possibly calculate the consequences of the uprising in the West and in the East of millions of silent voters whom the Republican Party has treated as second-class citizens.

All that anybody can say is that the tide has turned toward Smith, and that with courage, intelligence and candor the victory can be won.

Daniels Appeals for Solid Southern Vote

By JOSEPHUS DANIELS
Secretary of the Navy in President Wilson's Cabinet

This year Republican politicians turn avid eyes to old rock-ribbed Democratic commonwealths in the hope of securing enough electoral votes from the South to make up the losses which they expect to sustain because of revolt against the policies which have permitted the few to monopolize the bulk of prosperity created by the labor of the many.

If the secret circulation of literature the Republican leaders are ashamed to send out under their name, if the lavish use of money obtained from those enjoying special favors, and the misleading statements as to the Republican policies succeed, they hope to temporarily seduce the South from its ancient faith.

Nobody pretends there is any increase of Republican sentiment in the South for Republican policies. This would be impossible in view of the record of the Republican Administration. The chief possibility of Republican victory is based upon the division between Democrats.

The answer will be, and it should be made with resounding emphasis, that just as for fifty years Southerners have refused to sell their birthright for a proffered mess of pottage, so they will decline the invitation now of the Republican spider to walk into his parlor.

CATS AND CANARIES MAY SHOW AT PALACE

Exhibits for Cotton Palace at Waco Are Being Planned With Livestock Featured.

Possibilities of a canary bird show being held at the Texas Cotton Palace exposition in Waco this year from Nov. 9 to 18 are being discussed by officials of the fair. Final decision will be made upon a basis of whether the birds can be properly cared for, and whether owners are proud enough of the fine points of their little singers to put them on exhibition.

A cat show is also being discussed, and several Waco owners of felines have urged the authorities to hold it. In the livestock shows, particular attention is to be paid dairying because of the importance it is assuming in central Texas. Jersey cows and other breeds will be shown, and boys' calf clubs will bring their animals in during the fair. Although livestock from all over Texas, and some of it from outside the state will be brought in for exhibition, local people—those of McLennan and neighboring counties—are being encouraged more than formerly to enter good stock.

GREAT GRID CLASSICS SCHEDULED FOR WACO

Cotton Palace Dates Push Into Fall and Attract Battles of the Giants.

Football lovers of Texas will have opportunity to see two of the Southwest's greatest gridiron conflicts this season at the Texas Cotton Palace exposition. Dates of the big show this year are November 9 to 18th, inclusive. The opening date is later than usual and the chief reason for pushing the opening in to the fall was to schedule these two games as exposition attractions.

The first game is to be between Texas University and Baylor University teams on the Cotton Palace field Nov. 10, on Saturday following the fair's formal opening Friday night. In connection with this game, Baylor is to have home-coming day as well, which will attract a large number of ex-students and graduates to the campus and to the Cotton Palace. The Waco Baylor club has charge of this home-coming.

Southern Methodist University of Dallas plays Baylor on Saturday, Nov. 17. George H. Below, business manager of Baylor University, has the job of taking care of two bushel basketsful of tickets for these gridiron classics, sorting them according to demands that are already coming in, and distributing them in proper accordance of the rule "first come, first served."

WOMEN'S CARE FIRST IN PALACE THOUGHT

Innovations in Community Club Work Announced for Exposition.

Farm women will have headquarters at which they can feel entirely at home in the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition this year more than they ever have had before.

Dates of the big show are November 9 to 18, inclusive, and when the gates swing open there will be one entire building devoted to home demonstration clubs and community exhibits. It will be known as the home demonstration building and is the former floral building on the east side of the grounds as one enters. Canned goods, sewing work, interior decoration and garden projects of McLennan county women and girls will be on display, while community exhibits from Tarrant, Hill, Comanche, Bosque, Falls, Navarro and other counties of the state will draw hundreds of interested groups from several different localities in those counties.

A lounging room for women with chairs where they can rest after examining the attractions of the entire exposition will be a welcome innovation.

100 PIECE COMPACT IN ONE WALKING CANE

Unique Exhibits Are Announced for Texas Cotton Palace, November 9-18.

Two walking canes, hand-carved, and with interlocking pieces of wooden blocks will be exhibited at the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition in Waco, November 9 to 18th, inclusive, this year by their owner and maker, D. Thornton, of Wortham, Texas.

One of the sticks was made out of a hundred pieces of wood coming from five different states. Thornton did the work in 75 hours using odd hours and rainy days and keeping close tab on his time. Each different variety of wood has the name stamped on it.

The other cane was started with the big end of a billiard cue in which he cut out a marble which remains inside the stick and has a couple of inches to play up and down in. Twenty-eight different kinds of wood are used in this stick with each piece dove-tailed onto each succeeding joint as in the other unique cane.

Both sticks were made by Thornton employing his pocket knife and a small saw only. Thornton is a farmer and does this work only as a pastime.

The third article is joined blocks of wood two pieces of poplar from Georgia and pressed through a hole in the center of a block of Texas bois d'arc. The poplar is notched so that when dried and expanded it cannot be released, forming somewhat of a puzzle.

WOMAN'S WORK

WACO, Texas.—The Woman's department of the Texas Cotton Palace, at Waco, again promises to be one of the outstanding show places of the exposition. Hundreds of Waco women have planned the huge display that will be housed on the second floor of the main exhibit building.

LOW RAIL RATES

WACO, Texas.—Texas rail roads have again announced extremely low rates to Waco for the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, November 9 to 18. In addition to the low rates in effect throughout the exposition, special trains will be run from nearby points on feature days of the exposition.

Miss Lula Hutcherson, who is a member of the faculty of the Rockdale schools was the guest Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson.

BETTER BABIES WILL BE CONFERENCE AIM

Texas Cotton Palace Going in for Health on Large Scale This Season.

The better baby conference which is to be held at the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition in Waco during five days of the November 9 to 18 show is misunderstood by many Central Texas mothers, says Mrs. E. H. Flewelling, who is in charge of the conference.

"We do not want to attract only the 100 per cent babies as entrants in the Better Baby Conference," she said, "One valuable mission that the clinic has is to show mothers when their babies are under weight, or have some physical defect which, if corrected in infancy, may mean years of good health later on. A mother should not feel embarrassed if her baby does not score 100 per cent. Rather she should welcome the opportunity of discovering the remedy for a physical handicap that could prove serious as a contrast to the days when these handicaps were not ascertainable."

Dr. Roscoe Etter, Waco child specialist, will be head physician at the conference with 20 doctors assisting him. Every day there will be five assisting him—two physicians, a dentist and an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist—on hand to thoroughly examine each entrant. This year, Mrs. Lee Chase, county health nurse, is assisting Mrs. Flewelling, as is Mrs. Roy German, a registered nurse. Six hundred invitation blanks are being sent to mothers of Central Texas.

Confederate Daughters Urge Passage of Aid To Widows of Vets

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by Jeff Rogers Chapter No. 1513, United Daughters of the Confederacy of Cameron:

"Realizing the injustice being done some of the worthy widows of Confederate soldiers by operation of the arbitrary law denying pensions to widows born since 1861, we urge upon the voter-sof Texas the adoption of the amendment to the State Constitution, at the election next Tuesday, giving authority to the Legislature to make such changes as needed."

Fish Arrive Here For Lakes of Cameron

A truck load of fish for the lakes and streams about Cameron were delivered here Tuesday by the government from the postoffice.

The fish, small, but in large numbers being bass and croppie in variety will thrive in this section. They were brought here by a representative of the hatcheries on order of citizens who had placed orders last year for the fish to stock the streams and lakes.

The society will meet at the church next Monday for a business session.

"Vote as Farmers, Not Partisans"

"For you, farm men and women of America, this presidential election is not political but economic."

"You have seen the value of your farm property decrease $20,000, 000,000 and your debts increase $10,000,000,000."

"Four thousand of your banks have failed. Your bankruptcies have increased tenfold."

"During this period the most influential maker of Government policy toward agriculture has been Herbert Hoover."

That is the introduction to a full-page advertisement inserted in numerous Western farm papers by the Smith Independent Organizations Committee, which is headed by George Nelson Peek, noted farm leader, of Moline, Ill.

PROGRESSIVES OUT FOR SMITH

LaFollette Organ Issues Call to 5,000,000 Followers of Late Senator

MADISON, Wis.—Any lingering doubt that the Republican Progressive vote of the Nation would go to the Democratic presidential candidate has been dispelled by startling political developments during the past week.

The Capital-Times, long known as the organ of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and the leading Progressive newspaper in the West, in an outstanding editorial declared for Governor Smith for President, and called upon all Progressives in the State and Nation to support him.

Senator "Bob" LaFollette, Jr., is a large stockholder in the Capital-Times.

The editorial pronouncement is regarded as an official appeal to the 5,000,000 voters who supported the colorful Wisconsin senator in his campaign for President in 1924.

Blaine on Stump for Smith

It was followed immediately by the announcement of Senator John J. Blaine that he would speak for Governor Smith. Senator Blaine, who was elected three times by the Republicans as Governor of Wisconsin, succeeded to the leadership of the Wisconsin Progressives upon the death of the elder LaFollette. He had previously denounced Hoover. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, dominant Republican Progressive leader, has also endorsed Smith's stand on farm relief and water power.

The Republican State Central Committee in Wisconsin, headed by Herman L. Ekern, has repeatedly refused to endorse the Hoover-Curtis ticket. Over the doorway of a local hotel is a flaming banner reading: "Progressive Republican Headquarters: Alfred E. Smith for President."

Zone Meeting of Methodist Church Society Is Held

Zone number two of Milam District of Methodist Missionary Societies met with the Ben Arnold church at two o'clock in the afternoon, October 25, with Mrs. John Wallace, assistant chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Gibb Terry of Minerva led the devotional, using the 13th chapter of Corinthians. The welcome address was given by Mrs. Luther Wise of Ben Arnold and the response by Mrs. Marvin Sessions of Rockdale. Mrs. Henry Davis and Mrs. W. O. Triggs of Cameron spoke on the re-evaluation of the mission work.

There were 45 members present of whom fourteen were from Cameron. Four auxiliaries were represented, Rockdale, Minerva, Ben Arnold and Cameron. The hostess church served a salad plate with punch.

Mrs. C. C. Porter of Branchville was the guest last week end of Mr and Mrs. T. L. Randolph.

St. Rita's Circle Gives Box Supper

A number of people attended the box supper sponsored by the members of St. Rita's Circle and given at the Knights of Columbus Hall last Thursday evening. William Balhorn was the master of ceremonies in selling the boxes which the young ladies had brought.

Trinkets were sold and these were each numbered. Corresponding numbers were placed in a container and a small child drew one out. The person holding this lucky number from his trinket won a quilt. This fell to J. Dan.

After the boxes were sold dancing was enjoyed with Miss Mary Ellen Manning furnishing the music. Her pupils also rendered a program during the early part of the evening. Sandwiches and coffee were served throughout the evening.

Yoemen Lose Close Game Junior College

The Yoemen will clash with the powerful Caldwell Hornets in Caldwell Friday, November 2. This game will hold the interest of all Central Texas, because it will probably determine the district winner of this section.

This game will be a hard fought battle from beginning to end, because both elevens have a powerful defense and offense as well. This is shown by the fact that both teams have scored over 150 points during the season, while each of their goal lines has been crossed only twice.

Coach Perkins is putting the Yoemen through strenuous workouts this week and will have the team in the best condition of the season for the game. It will be a determined but not over-confident eleven, which will take the field for Yoe High Friday.

ATTENTION TURKEY RAISERS!

We expect to open our turkey dressing plant November 1st. The crop now seems to be larger than was thought to be the case earlier in the season, but we see no reason to fear unusually low prices. In the matter of grading, we suggest that you examine your turkeys to be offered on the early November market very carefully and do not market anything except fully fat stock. Thin turkeys will be graded as number two, and there is a difference of TEN cents per pound between one's and two's. Again, a turkey that will grade two in November on account of weight, if a healthy bird, can easily be fed and make a number one grade for the December market.

IN HAULING YOUR TURKEYS TO MARKET TIE THEIR WINGS, as skinned or bruised turkeys will be graded number two. Crooked breast turkeys are graded number two, regardless of whether they are fat or not. It is our purpose to give you at all times the best information that we can, to make POULTRY RAISING profitable to you. We are going to be in the market for fat geese and ducks, for Thanksgiving. On account of rapid fluctuations we are not going to quote prices in the paper, but it will pay you to get in touch with us before selling your turkeys.

SMITH VICTORY OR RUIN, SAY FARM LEADERS

Anxious to Get Out Every Possible Vote for Champion of Agriculture.

CITE RECORDS OF NOMINEES

Scores of Farm Organizations Endorse Democratic Candidate and Denounce Hoover; Officials Active in Campaign.

Threatened with ruin by a "continuance of the Coolidge policies," and realizing their only hope for relief lies in piling up enough farm votes to ensure the election of Governor Smith, American farmers are making, through their various organizations, a tremendous effort to get every agricultural worker to the polls on election day.

Unquestionably endorsed by practically all farm organizations of consequence in the West and South, the Democratic candidate is assured, despite attempts to defeat him by appeals to bigotry, of the votes of all farmers who place their own prosperity above partisan prejudices.

Farm leaders, however, are anxious to make the Smith farm majority large enough to offset any possible advantage gained by the Hoover forces in backward districts which might be influenced by the misleading propaganda of the Ku Klux Klan and Anti-Saloon League.

Calling upon all farmers and members of their families to register and vote for Governor Smith, they stress the attitude of the two presidential candidates as revealed in both their past records and their utterances during the present campaign.

Candidates Contrasted

Governor Smith has consistently proposed and secured the passage of legislation which was invaluable to the farmers of his State. Herbert Hoover has just as consistently opposed measures which might have benefited Agriculture. It was he who, as Federal Food Administrator, held down the prices of wheat and hogs during the war.

What is more important, Governor Smith promises to give the farmers immediately the legislative aid to which they have struggled unsuccessfully for the last five years. Herbert Hoover is opposed to it, the agricultural leaders point out, and his election would mean the death of the farm movement.

Perhaps the most important expression of organized agriculture's stand in this election is the resolution endorsing Governor Smith's position and condemning that of the Republican party, adopted recently in Des Moines by the Corn Belt Committee. This is the alliance of the 40 most important farm organizations in the Middle West, with a combined membership of 1,500,000 heads of families. Mr. Hoover's record has been bitterly condemned, also, by a resolution passed by the National Farmers' Union.

Leaders Endorse Smith

Among the many prominent farm leaders who have endorsed Governor Smith's position on Agriculture and denounced that of Mr. Hoover, are the following: S. H. Thompson, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation; W. H. Settle, President of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation; Earl C. Smith, President of the Illinois Agriculture Association; Wm. Hirth, President of the Missouri Farmers Association, and Chairman of the Corn Belt Committee of Farm Organizations; Frank W. Murphy, of Minnesota, Chairman of the Legislative Committee of Corn Belt Federation of Farm Organizations; W. L. Stockton, President of the Montana Farm Bureau Federation; J. J. O'Shea, President of the Montana Farmers' Union; C. E. Huff, President of the Kansas Farmers' Union; Jno. Simpson, President of the Oklahoma Farmers' Union; Milo Reno, President of the Iowa Farmers' Union; J. P. Reed, President of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation; Chas. C. Talbot, President of the North Dakota Farmers' Union; A. W. Ricker, Secretary of the Corn Belt Federation of Farm Organizations; H. G. Keeney, President of the Nebraska Farmers' Union; Chas. Stewart, Secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau; George Luis, President of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' Association; E. Kennedy, Secretary of the Illinois Farmers' Union; Henry A. Wallace, Editor of Wallace's Farm Journal; Giles Cannon, Former Commissioner of Agriculture of Idaho; John Napier, Former Director in the American Farm Bureau Federation; Chester C. Davis, Former Commissioner of Agriculture of Montana; Chas. E. Cashman, Member of the Executive Board, Minnesota Farm Bureau; J. S. Winder, Secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Geo. Plummer, Colorado Wheat Growers' Association; Dr. B. W. Kilgore, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Cotton Growers' Association; Judge X. Caverio, President of the South Cotton Growers' Association; Frank Wheatcraft, Manager of the Union Live Stock Shipping Association Chicago; George N. Peek, Chairman of the Committee of Twenty-two of the North Central States Agriculture Conference; Verna L. Hatch, Social and Educational Director of the Indiana Farm Bureau; Lawrence Ousley, of Texas, former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; Robert A. Cowles, Treasurer of the Illinois Agriculture Association. He is an incomplete list of farmers who have made public announcement that they are supporting Governor Smith. He is a Republican and a Dry

CLUB DECLINES HELP CHANGE HOMESTEAD LAW

SKIPS IN PAVING BETTER THAN DEPRIVE WIDOW OF HOME SAYS REPORT

The Commercial Club will have no part in the attempt now being made to change the Homestead Law of Texas so as to permit liens for paving. This report was made by C. W. Lawrence at the meeting on Monday night. The following is the minutes of the meeting:

Roll call showed the following present: C. S. Peyton, president; J. D. Dobbins, vice president; J. C. Tucker, treasurer; W. M. Cobb, secretary; W. R. Hoover, J. C. Young, F. E. Jackson, W. H. Shipp, C. W. Lawrence, B. V. Shirley, T. A. Fisher and B. T. Harris.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

C. W. Lawrence for the committee on change of homestead law reported as follows:

We, your committee, appointed to make report on the proposed Constitutional Amendment as submitted by the Fort Worth Association of Commerce, proposing to change the present Homestead Law so as to permit homesteads to be subject to public improvements, with lien on such property, beg to report as follows:

We do not favor any such change in the Homestead Law; we recognize the Texas Homestead Exemption as sound and proper. The change proposed would forcibly put a lien on some homesteads of very poor or needy children, amounting in substance to force the sale of the home to pay the improvement levy. A skip in paving now and then would be better than to force one Texas widow from her humble home.

Respectfully submitted,
C. W. Lawrence, Chairman
Frank S. Lesovsky
R. H. McIntosh

Report adopted and committee thanked.

The Secretary reported that the East Texas Chamber of Commerce had sent the desired copies of October magazines, dairy number, without any charge.

The Club carried a motion to thank the East Texas Chamber of Commerce for these magazines.

It was suggested that Mr. Wren of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce would be in Cameron Wednesday and would want to meet the members.

Mr. Lesovsky moved that the Secretary call a meeting of the club after Mr. Wren arrives, at such time as he suggests. Carried.

Mr. Shirley introduced Mr. Allen as an applicant for membership in the club. He also told of a Mr. Allen of Houston, an experienced hotel man, who wants to build a hotel for Cameron. Mr. Allen was elected to membership.

The secretary read a letter from D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Park Board who is interested in a syndicate which is to build five hotels in Texas and would like to build one at Cameron.

On motion Mr. Cobb and Mr. Shirley were instructed to write both these gentlemen asking them to make definite propositions.

The Secretary reported that all the money subscribed for the cheese factory stock had been collected except $800 and this was nearly all promised by Wednesday. The Secretary was authorized to ask any member to help on the collections. Mr. Young and Mr. Shipp offered their assistance.

Healing Revival To Close November 5; Hundreds Attend

The Davis Revival in the City Park has been attracting people from all over the country as well as distant counties and communities, according to reports from a large number of outsiders who were present Sunday night.

Evangelist Albert E. Davis preached one of his most forceful sermons Sunday night, using for his subject, "The Tragedy of the Rich Young Ruler." According to Davis the rich young ruler had a desire to follow Jesus Christ but he was not willing to give his wealth to the poor, he loved his riches better than he loved Christ. The second scene in the young ruler's life is where he gains greater wealth and he resolves to tear down his barns and build larger ones; he boasts of his riches and his happiness, but he fails to see the death angel approaching him. In the third scene the rich man lies in death surrounded by all the attentions of a rich man's funeral, while his neighbor Lazarus dies unnoticed and is buried in a potter's field. The fourth scene shows the rich man in hell and he prays to Abraham to send him a drop of water and to send some one to earth to save his five brothers. "Too late this man begins to pray and too late he develops a missionary spirit," Davis said. A number of conversions have been

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

For nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

The cost of reconditioning the Model T Ford is small because of the low cost of Ford parts and the established Ford policy of charging all labor at a standard flat rate.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

Repainting runs from $10 to $25. Taking dents out of body panels and doors runs from $3 to $16 for labor. A fender can be replaced for a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. The cost of fenders runs from $3.50 to $5.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of pleasant, reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

NEW OAKLAND NOW ON DISPLAY IN CAMERON

SCHILLER MOTOR COMPANY
PRESENTS NEW CAR TO
MOTORING PUBLIC

Completely new and original in appearance, with a host of advanced engineering features, the latest Oakland 1928 model went on display here last week at the showrooms of the Schiller Motor Company, local Oakland and Pontiac dealer.

Smarter, roomier than a year ago, with bodies of distinctive design and a chassis said to be the last word in mechanical refinement, the latest All-American model bears only a passing resemblance of its famous predecessor—the first All-American Six brought out by Oakland Motor Car Company a year ago.

Briefly, the new line offers a bigger, faster, more powerful engine; new Oakland type internal expanding 4-wheel brakes; masterful body creations by Fisher; new Duco color combinations, higher larger cross-flow radiator with grill front; adjustable driver's seat; chrome lamps of new design; sturdy ten-spoke wheels; Lovejoy shock absorbers and spring covers as standard equipment; new steering gear; studier frame, and a host of other improvements that are destined to make the car a distinguished addition to the aristocratic motor car family of America.

Many months have been spent in developing the car to a point where it offers everything that a discriminating public has learned to expect in the way of style and performance. Every detail has been subjected to exhaustive tests that the car might represent the crowning achievement of 22 years of successful automobile building by the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Into the perfection of power plant and body lines have gone the pooled resources of Oakland and General Motors engineers, General Motors Research Laboratories, General Motors Proving Ground and craftsmen of the Fisher Body organization. Many months have been spent developing and proving every detailed change to bring the finished product up to the rigid standards called for on the specification charts.

Already a million miles have been piled up by test cars on the General Motors Proving Ground. Although brand new to the public, it is a thoroughly seasoned product with the equivalent of many years of owner service already to its credit.

Seven passenger types comprise the line: sport roadster, sport phaeton, coupe, 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, and a new landaulet sedan and convertible cabriolet.

Artisans of the Fisher organization with Oakland engineers have achieved a new grace of body lines and a symmetry and proportion exclusive in the Oakland field. The new landaulet sedan with its fabric covered rear quarter section which may be quickly raised or lowered, has an air of custom built distinction.

The rear seats of all five passenger models are two inches wider this year to increased elbow room and to add to the comfort of passengers. This change has been effected without increasing the tread.

Closed bodies all have adjustable driver's seats, reveals around side windows set off by a narrow bead, single belt moulding starting at radiator and completely encircling the body, smart side cowl ventilators, new type military sun visors and hardware designed exclusively for Oakland. On individual body types are walnut finished door panels, Axminster carpet in tonneau, embossed leather smoking sets, package space luggage room in rear deck and many other popular features adding to the luxury of the interiors.

A new instrument panel finished in black imparts a dignified touch to the front interior. Instruments are individually mounted on the dash and directly illuminated by two soft shielded lights. On the dash are an eighty mile speedometer gasoline gauge, oil gauge and ammeter mounted on a reased panel on the center of the board. On either side are the ignition lock and lighting switch button and the choke and throttle control buttons. The windshield wiper control and light switch buttons are below the speedometer. All instrument dials are black with white figures.

A strikingly new outside appearance is provided by the head-on view of the car. The chrome plated radiator has been raised so that the line from the base of the cowl to the new flat radiator cap appears practically level. The shell is high and narrow with an unbroken outside curve line. A new grill, or radiator front louver, is of chevron design with a vertical chrome plated bar extending the full height of the front in the center of the grill.

The Oakland emblem has been redesigned this year in the form of a shield. Red, white and blue enameling bear out the All-American motif. The famous Oakland pioneered cross flow radiator is retained with the cooling capacity increased.

Flanking the radiator are new full crown fenders, larger and wider than sign with a beaded edge and a 71 a year ago, of seamless one-piece design spread. Rear fender ends have been extended lower than the hub cap to assure increased protection and added beauty.

The newly fashioned hood has a chrome plated top hinge and vertical louvers in five groups of four each on either side to achieve a swagger air. Parking lamps are mounted on a chrome plated cowl bar.

Small diameter wood wheels are standard equipment on all models. Ten heavy spokes, eight-inch flanges and large hub caps stamped with the new Oakland shield offer a picture in line with the current mode. Tire size remains at 29 by 5.50, oversize for Oakland weight.

A powerful engine, offering flashing performance at every speed range has been achieved by stepping up the cylinder displacement to 228 cubic inches as against 212 in the earlier model. This, in conjunction with other engine changes, results in a top speed of well over seventy miles an hour and quick acceleration of from ten to 25 miles an hour in high gear in six seconds flat.

Increased displacement was brought about by enlarging the cylinder bore from 3 1/4 inches to 3 3/8 inches. The improved engine develops 68 brake horse power at 3000 r. p. m.

A new and exclusive Oakland feature is the four-point rubber engine mounting adopted on this model. By means of special rubber "biscuits" which insulate the engine from the frame, there is no metal-to-metal contact, a feature which eliminates noise and engine vibration.

Other features contributing to better performance are permanent mould type semi-steel pistons combining lightness with long wear; an improved oiling system to assure better lubrication of cylinder walls, piston and pins; larger oil pump which circulates 200 gallons of oil every sixty minutes at 25 miles an hour; larger carburetor and manifold; more rigid supported transmission housing and latest improved AC air cleaner consisting of a chamber filled with copper shavings dipped in oil.

Increased braking power with a minimum of pedal pressure is achieved by new Oakland designed brakes, of the mechanical four-wheel type, self energizing, with internal expanding shoes on all four wheels. Individual adjustments are located at each wheel, and equalization has been entirely eliminated. The brakes operate on large twelve-inch drums and provide 290 square inches of braking surface. The parking brake on the transmission also has been redesigned for increased safety.

Spring squeaks have been largely eliminated by the inclusion of fitted spring covers standard equipment on all models. By the retention of spring grease and the protection of springs from outside dirt and grit, the covers eliminate the necessity of oiling the leaves except at extremely long intervals.

Greater steering ease is achieved by an improved type steering gear incorporating the worm and half-nut principle. The new 18-inch steering wheel is of ebony finish with flat spokes and a small wood rim with convenient finger grips. Horn button and the cap on the shift lever also are black to harmonize with the instrument board.

The frame has been strengthened for increased ruggedness and safety. A heavy corrugated rear plate completely covers and protects the oval gas tank, which has been increased in size this year to fifteen gallons.

Running boards are of all metal construction of new design, with distinctive rubber mats and aluminum moulding on all edges. Lovejoy shock absorbers are standard equipment.

Among other refinements of the chassis are an improved universal joint; larger muffler and new fender tie rods, front license supporters and spare tire carrier.

Special sport equipment consisting of six wire wheels is available for all models. Spares are carried in front fender wells and are provided with tire locks and chrome plated hub caps bearing the Oakland emblem in colors.

The interior of all bodies is finished in pleasing harmony with the smart new exterior uco combinations. Heavy mohair upholstery material in plain colors is used for the interior of all tible coupe, whereD trimming is of closed types except the new convertible. The form-fitting cushions and backs are deep and luxurious.

The driver's seat on all closed bodies is quickly adjustable, forward or backward, by an easily operated control located at the side of the seat. A foot control conveniently opens or closes the smart side cowl ventilators.

All bodies are slightly wider also across the dash to make for increased comfort of passengers in the front compartment. The semi-coincidental transmission lock is retained this year, as is the theft-proof door lock which will not yield to the application of a wrench to the door handle.

Production on the new line is going forward as fast as precision manufacturing methods will permit. Cars are being shipped to dealers with the utmost dispatch so that they may have on hand models for prompt delivery.

The striking new beauty of this latest All-American and the better stamina and performance built into the sturdier engine and improved chassis, lent substance to the confidence of Oakland officials that the car will prove the most successful Oakland brought out since the organization of the company more than 22 years ago.

HOOVER BETRAYED FARMER, PEEK AVERS

Gives Proof That Candidate Was Responsible for Low Price of Wheat.

BORAH "EITHER IGNORANT OR GUILTY OF FRAUD"

CHICAGO—Senator Borah is either ignorant of Herbert Hoover's record or is "willfully guilty of fraud" in his campaign speeches to Western farmers, George N. Peek, noted farm leader and former chairman of the Industrial Conference Board of the Department of Commerce, has charged in a telegram to Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Peek, who is active in behalf of Governor Smith because of the Governor's stand on the farm relief question, directly challenged the truth of Senator Borah's statements and the claims of the Republican campaign managers. He said:

"I realize that I am insisting upon a good deal when I demand fairness and facts from the Republican National Committee and its spokesman, judging from the claims made in Mr. Hoover's behalf.

"Senator Borah in his address at Minneapolis raised a serious question of veracity between himself and Mr. Hoover.

"Senator Borah asserts that Mr. Hoover held up the price of wheat. Moreover a large part of the Republican campaign among the farmers is built on this claim. This is fraud.

"The records prove that if wheat had not been 'controlled' the price would have risen as did the prices of other cereal crops that were not controlled. It would have advanced as corn advanced and as oats advanced and would have sold for at least $3.48 a bushel.

"I say that Mr. Hoover used every effort in his power to keep down prices and I submit in proof of this assertion Mr. Hoover's own words.

Held Prices Down

"Early in April, 1919, Mr. Hoover from Europe addressed a cablegram to me, from which I now quote.

"If the control of wheat were removed during the next two or three months in the face of the world situation, prices in this commodity would advance materially beyond the present level. I wish to repeat that unless some superior force intervenes, we intend to hold the price of wheat to the figures it has stood at during the entire war under Congressional guarantee."

"On May first, 1918, Mr. Hoover, then Food Administrator, in a public address declared:

"I agree with the contention of some farmers that they would be getting $5 and perhaps $10 a bushel for their wheat if it had not been for the restraint imposed by the government."

"I repeat that either Senator Borah and other Republican leaders are wholly ignorant of the 'record' which Senator Borah so persistently quotes or he or they are guilty of fraud.

"I insist that you and other Republican leaders inform Senator Borah, other speakers and the public whether the cable from Mr. Hoover in 1919 or the claims of Republican leaders now as presented in the campaign text book and in the public statements of Republican speakers are a fraud.

"Somebody is not telling the truth. The public will be interested in knowing who it is."

In a speech in New York City, on April 22, 1920, reviewing the work done by his Food Administration, Mr. Hoover said:

"The Grain Corporation was successfully managed by Mr. Barnes. In 1917 the wheat price was $2.20 per bushel. The farmers could have obtained $5 per bushel."

The quotation, from the Republican New York Tribune, proves conclusively that Hoover restricted the price of wheat, while other prices were permitted to go sky high.

We Must Preserve White Supremacy

By HON. J. FELTON LANE

(Editor's Note—The following editorial appeared in the Hearne Democrat last week, written by the splendid Democratic editor, Hon. J. Felton Lane and is reproduced here by permission of the editor of the Democrat. The photo referred to could not be reproduced as the cut had been promised to some of the daily papers.)

While the negro should be protected in life, liberty and property rights; in fair, just and humane treatment as a citizen; and will be so protected by the best element of our Southern white people; it is unfortunately true that there can be no political equality of the races in the South, as has been repeatedly demonstrated and one or the other of the races will be in control of the politics and the offices throughout the South.

Ever since the fifteenth amendment to the federal constitution placed the ballot in the negro's hands, there has been a constant struggle to maintain white supremacy in all those sections where there are as many or more negro voters than white voters; and during all these struggles the Republican party has been the champion of the negro, and has endeavored—by such measures as the "Lodge Force Bill" to have the Federal Courts and Federal Militia control the election affairs of the Southern States. It is quite natural that by such measures, the Republican party has won the practically unanimous support of negroes throughout the United States.

A practically free publication boasting of the fact that over a million copies a week are being circulated in the United States, and which has been sent to voters in this County, throughout Texas and throughout the South, for several weeks, in addition to carrying numerous articles and cartoons attacking the religion of Governor Smith as a member of the Roman Catholic church and claiming that the Pope will take charge of America in the event Governor Smith is elected as President—notwithstanding the fact that he has been four times elected as Governor of the most populous state in the Union, without any such dire calamities being visited upon us—carried in several issues a purported photograph of a negro official in New York City dictating a letter to a white woman secretary.

This negro official is really an appointee of a Mayor, who is a political enemy of Governor Smith and in any event the Governor of New York in charge of the State Government at Albany, could no more be justly held responsible for some appointment by the Mayor of New York City than Governor Moody, who was endorsed by our Texas Democrats for President and who is supporting Governor Smith, could be held responsible if it was found that the Mayor of some Texas town or city had appointed some negro to some responsible position, and if such negro had found a white skinned woman who was willing to serve as his secretary, and have her picture taken as such. New York City is the largest city in the world with an area of three hundred and twenty square miles and a population of about six million people—hence, it is to be expected that much might be found in a city of that size that he would condemn, just as much would be found that we would commend.

It is doubtless true that in a few wards of great cities in the United States where there are very large percentages of negro voters, a negro will occasionally get an appointment to some important position; but such cases are exceptional, whereas the Republican Party in the South has specialized in flattering the negro politicians by giving them as many as possible of the most important offices of appointment.

In many of the Southern States recent Grand Jury indictments in Federal courts have developed the fact that Negro National Committeemen of the Republican Party had made postmasterhips, judgeships, district attorneys and other important offices matters of barter and sale and that many white postmasters and other white federal officials in those states could only retain their offices by regular payments to these important negro politicians of the Republican Party.

In many sections of the Southern States, the white citizenship has had to exercise constant vigilance to maintain white supremacy and only the solidarity of the white vote in the South AND THE AID OF THE DEMOCRATS OF NORTHERN STATES, has afforded protection from the constant efforts of the Republican Party to force social and political equality of the negro upon the white race.

The Republican Party is constantly attacking our statutes providing for separate schools for the races, our white primary statutes and other statutes enforcing segregation of the races and our Republican friends in the North provide no such segregation in many of their states.

Even now the leaders of the Republican Party are championing the "Dyer Anti Lynching Bill," the purpose of which is to try every person charged with participating in a mob, in some federal court, and to penalize the county where a lynching occurs in a damage verdict of several thousand dollars to be paid to the heirs of the victim of the lynchers and to be collected out of the tax payers of the county, where the lynching occurs, whether they participated therein or not. Under this law a brute who attacks and outrages some Southern woman, and reaps the penalty which has always followed (and will always follow such attacks as long as red blooded Americans live in the South) will precipitate a trial in some federal court of every man even suspected of taking a part therein and penalizing the tax payers of that county in a damage verdict of several thousand sand dollars.

Naturally, a political party whose leaders and platforms champion such measures and whose leading members have white girls in the government departments under their charge to work side by side with negro men at the desks, and to use the same rest rooms and lavatories with negro girls will win the united support of the members of the negro race; but the race question is a very real and important question to the white people of the South and the many good men and women throughout the South—some as good citizens and as good Democrats as live upon this earth—who are deeply dissatisfied with the domination of Governor Smith—hesitate a long time before they join in the attempt to place the constant and traditional enemy of white supremacy in the South in a position where its plans and programs may be carried out.

While the editor was not born until 1872, hence knew nothing personally of reconstruction times, and only knows from statements of the old residents of this county—of the humiliation of the former Confederate soldiers when they were required to walk to the polls in Robertson County—and in other counties all over the South—between lines of armed negro militia to cast their ballots; he does remember that—within his own recollection—in several counties in Texas—various important county officers were held by negroes, and he has—in several counties during his early practice at the bar—even in the capital city of this state—seen the trial of a white citizen before a jury composed partly of negroes.

The old custom in this county was for the Democrats to meet in convention at Franklin, nominate a county ticket and then to assess the nominees a sufficient amount to buy the support of the principal negro politicians of the county in order that they might be elected to the offices to which the white Democrats had chosen them. It was also expected of everyone of these Democratic nominees that he would attend what was called "Owl Meetings" of negro voters throughout the county make speeches and hand out cigars, whiskey and money, in the hope of securing the negro vote, over the opposition ticket.

In November 1896 after the Democratic Nominees had made the usual round of speeches at "Owl Meetings" and handed out the usual donations to "Florence men," it became apparent that the opposition ticket was going to be given the offices anyway and a mass meeting of citizens was held at the old Opera House in Hearne, attended by white citizens only, at which it was determined that the time had come for the white Democrats of this County to hold the offices of the county, without buying them from negro politicians—as is being done now in regard to federal offices in several of the Southern States. Whether this meeting had anything to do with the outbreak of shooting at the polls the next day in Hearne, may be left to conjecture or surmise; but the Hearne box went solidly Democratic that day for the first time in its history.

Notwithstanding the unanimous sentiment in Hearne box for democracy on that date, it became apparent a few days later that enough negro votes had been polled at other boxes to make the election of the Democratic ticket doubtful and "The Hearne Inaugural Party" as it was then called, chartered a special train and attended the County Commissioners' Court meeting at Franklin, which court saw the matter in the true and proper light and issued certificates of election to the nominees of the Democratic County Convention. The members of the "Hearne Inaugural Party" thought their days work was important enough to have their picture taken, at the passenger depot at Franklin, and this editor is fortunate enough to have one of these old pictures taken November 9, 1896—nearly 32 years ago—which we are presenting our readers herewith, just as a reminder of old times in this county.

Many of those shown in the above picture have passed on across the river, but their descendants left on this side will remember with pride that they acquitted themselves like men in this crucial period of Robertson County history, and that the steady forward movement in Robertson County in behalf of good government and honest politics was made possible on that day, by their bold and determined stand for the nominees of their party.

Halloween Party For Senior B. Y. P. U. At Church Annex

"See writ in blood at Halloween The thirtieth at eight thirteen Come dressed as witches or ghosts And we will be your witching hosts. 'The Ghost Trail' starts from a point marked X; Be there lest you the witches vex. Follow the witch that meets you there Thru tortuous paths and mind not where."

(X—Baptist Sunday School Annex) Such was the summons received by members of the Senior B. Y. P. U. and their guests for a Halloween party at the Annex Tuesday evening. Following out instructions in the invitation everyone wore fancy costumes and masks.

Miss Goldie Burke, who had charge of the entertainment, directed those present in Halloween games, not the least of which was a trip through the chamber of horrors where witches and ghosts made merry and gave those entering many weird experiences. Cakes and hot chocolate were served after the games. Guest chaperones were Mesdames Philip Reid, Lester Williams and Reese.

BRIDGE CLUB

The Bridge Club met last Friday with Mrs. J. L. Clinton at her home on East Thirteenth Street. Four tables of players enjoyed the games amid a setting of Halloween decorations featuring golden cosmos. High score prize, a gift shop novelty, went to Mrs. Kestenbaum and low score, a set of bridge table markers was won by Mrs. John Mangum.

The hostess served a salad plate of tuna salad, sandwiches, cheese carrots, pickles and orange ice to the club members and the following guests: Mesdames W. A. Bonds, S. A. Cottle, James L. Coleman, Buck Bonds, Kestenbaum, John Mangum, Ben Atkinson and Mack Fox.

Mrs. John Shipp, 2314 Maple Street, Oklahoma City, Okla., says:

"Two years ago, I was in very bad health. I was so weak and run-down, I could scarcely keep going. 'My mother thought I ought to try Cardui, and told me to get some and take it. I could eat nothing, as I had no appetite. 'I found great relief after I began taking Cardui. I was able to eat and I could sleep. Before that, I had been so nervous that the least little thing upset me. I got thinner and thinner, and I was always tired.'"

Gov. Smith Convinces Big Business Men That Farm Prosperity Will Aid Industry

That Governor Smith, in his determined stand on behalf of agriculture, has already accomplished great things for the farmer becomes more apparent every day.

Governor Smith is convincing the important business men of the East that prosperity of agriculture means as much to them as it does to the farmer himself. The indifference of the East to farm legislation is disappearing. For eight years the business interests of the East in general have accepted Herbert Hoover's belief that agriculture's gain would be in industry's loss.

Governor Smith has undertaken to show them how essential it is to increase the prosperity of the farmer, and thus to increase the buying power of one-third of the national population for manufactured products.

Announcing his support for Governor Smith, Owen D. Young, Chairman of the General Electric Company said:

"On this farm problem, we must affirmatively move, because staying here will spell disaster. I believe in Governor Smith's capacity to lead the American people to action.

"I am supporting Governor Smith because I believe in his willingness and his capacity to put the farmers of this country on an equality with its industry. I am tired of hearing of farm relief as though the farmers of this country, as a class to whom all people belonged, are the kind of men who stand with their hats in their hands begging alms in the shape of Government dimes.

"They ask for an equality of economic opportunity, and they are entitled to it. Not only must they be given it politically because it is right but they must be given it from an economic standpoint if the prosperity of this country is to continue."

Blasienz and wife Mamie Blasienz to T. S. Henderson, Trustee for Geo. E. Lender, recorded Vol. 54, page 555, Milam County, Texas, Deed of Trust Records, to which reference is here made.

Missouri For Smith Says Former Resident Writing To Brother

Judge O. C. Nolte of Ben Arnold was in Cameron Monday on business and while here called at The Herald Office. Judge Nolte is justice of the peace at Ben Arnold and has served his precinct with distinction for a number of years. He is a leading Democrat of that community and is a staunch supporter of Governor Smith for the presidency.

A brother of Judge Nolte now in Kansas City wrote to him several days ago asking about the political situation in Texas. In Missouri, the republicans claim they will carry Texas. To those who live here this seems a joke, as described in the letter to Judge Nolte, however the Republicans are so definite in their claims that inquiry is made. Judge Nolte has written his brother assuring him that Texas is still Democratic.

The letter assures Judge Nolte that Missouri is for Governor Smith despite the claims of the Republican committee.

CAMERON

FROM THE FILES OF THE CAMERON HERALD

28 Years Ago

The census of this year gives Texas a population of 3,082,288 against 2,235,532 in 1890. This state now ranks sixth in point of population, Missouri standing next ahead by a slim margin. We passed Massachusetts and Ohio will come next after Missouri. New York first with Pennsylvania and Illinois following. Upon the basis of the last apportionment Texas will be entitled to 19 congressmen.

The census bureau has announced the population of the United States at 76,296,220 of which 74,627,907 are contained in the 45 states and will be the basis for reapportionment. The population in 1890 was 63,069,756 which shows an increase in the last decade of 13,226,464 or 21.6 per cent. Our nation in point of wealth and population is the greatest on the globe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman have a new arrival at their home, a fine baby girl.

Last Tuesday morning Capt. J. B. Wolf received a package through the mails which required 25c in postage to transmit. He broke open the box and found a letter and a beautiful little gavel as its contents. The letter was written August 30th of this year and hence had been on its way exactly two months. The letter was dated at Bangor, Providence of Abba, Philippine Islands and was from A. E. Bruner, Co. A. 33rd United States Volunteers. He wrote Capt. Wolf that he desired the gavel presented to the Cameron Lodge, Knights of Honor, with the compliments of the donor and we are quite sure the lodge will appreciate very highly this gift from Eliza Bruner. The gavel is made from water buffalo horn of Carabau, as the natives call it. It is a nice piece of workmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reno left last Monday morning for San Antonio to spend a few days sight seeing at the great fair.

S. M. Burns left last Monday for Dargan to be absent about two weeks.

The houses that have stood for fifty years as land marks in Cameron are about all gone. Mr. Fahrendorf tore down one this week to give place for a new residence.

Monta J. Moore was in Waco on business this week.

F. A. Black and others from Cameron spent last Tuesday hunting quail on the prairie between Cameron and Waco. They went up on the local.

Misses Maggie McCalla and Meta Thompson spent several days last week at the San Antonio Fair.

W. W. Chambers is able to be out on the streets again after several days confinement to his room by sickness.

Work is in progress this week on the new business house of J. H. Bickett and W. T. Hefley on the block across the street east of the First National Bank. The brick work on the J. D. Hefley and T. C. Stafford houses on the same block has been completed and the carpenters are at work on the flooring and other woodwork.

Luling Oil Boom

The most recent big oil boom in Texas has been at Luling, where an oil field is being developed that promises to exceed the rich oil field found there a few years ago from which nearly $40,000,000 worth of oil has been taken. Reports are that $1,500,000 is involved in a single recent oil transaction. A smuch as $2500 has been paid for lease of an eighth of an acre. Property in Luling has advanced from 50 to 200 per cent since the latest oil discovery. It's a boom of a kind that delights the heart of the old time oil prospector and the real estate speculator.

Fredericksburg Spreading

A few years ago Fredericksburg was the largest unincorporated town in Texas. It has since incorporated and taken on more city-like airs. Sur urban real estate has been selling for $2500 an acre and when land gets that high without an oil or mining boom there is a good reason for it. In this case it means that Fredericksburg is spreading out rapidly beyond its former limits.

Waco-Port Arthur Road

The Waco-Port Arthur railroad with a long name but better known as the Duff railroad has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $900,000 in capital stock and $3,000,000 in bonds to connect with existing lines with which traffic arrangements have been made. This means improved rail facilities for a fine part of East Texas and the development of a large section of East Texas country.

Grape Fruit Shipments

Grape Fruit is being shipped North from South Texas in car lots and the prices are satisfactory. The first two carloads out of Sharyland in the Rio Grande Valley brought 50 cents a box more than the opening prices of last season. All that is needed to create a big demand for Valley grape fruit in the North is to have the people test the Texas product in comparison with that from other sections.

Texas Jersey Cattle

The grand champion cow in the National Jersey Show at Memphis was from Taft, San Patricio county, Texas. Texas is fast becoming noted for its dairy cattle. The improvements of its herds has been largely due to the increased number of milk and cheese factories established in the State in the last few years. Texas climate and Texas pastures seem to afford the ideal combination for profitable dairying.

Pearsall Vegetable Plants

For several years Texas has been supplying millions of onion plants to the growers of the North. Lately the business, on an extensive scale, has extended to other vegetables such as cabbage tomatoes and peppers and to strawberry plants. Pearsall is a center for shipment of plants, which go out from there by millions, the soil there being especially adapted to their growth.

Feature Sections

A feature section of the San Marcos Record on the completion of the Baptist church building in that town causes the suggestion that many weekly papers are overlooking opportunities for issuing such sections and getting nice volumes of advertising from builders and supply dealers as well as from merchants who like such opportunities for extending public congratulations. The Record's feature section contained several pages of interesting history and description and equally interesting advertising.

Country Club Scene of Bridge Party

Having as hostess Mrs. Oxshier Smith, Miss Beth Jeter and Miss Rose Rischer, the members of the Country Club met at the club house Friday evening for bridge. Jack O'lanterns, witches and black cats were used as decorations; score cards were symbolic of the Halloween season, as were also individual candy cups filled with orange colored candies.

Five tables of players enjoyed the games at the conclusion of which it was found that Miss Bess DuBois and Mr. George Graves had won high score while Mrs. Tom Denson and Mr. Cottle won low. An out of town guest was Mrs. Paul Brown of Karnes City.

Texas Airports

According to the United States departments of Commerce there are now 93 airports in Texas. These figures include those that are marked and that have more or less landing facilities, some of them having decidedly 'less'. They show however, increasing recognition of the need for modern cities and towns to have landing fields for airplanes. It is indeed a remote Texas town that does not hear the whir of the planes in the air every week and the number of planes is increasing rapidly. The manufacture of air planes has come to be an important Texas industry. Since air-mail postage has been reduced from ten cents to five cents business concerns are using planes more largely to speed up business.

Landmarks Are Going

In the rapid growth of Texas the landmarks are having to make way for new conditions. This seems especially true of the old hotels. Not long ago the historic Nimitz Hotel at Fredericksburg, once the favorite stopping place of General Robert E. Lee, was torn down to make room for a modern building. Travelers prefer comfort to sentiment, so the Nimitz had to go. It is now announced that the famous old Tremont Hotel at Galveston, a five story structure that was once the pride of Texas, and a noted social center, must be torn down to be replaced by a hotel in keeping with the requirements of the present. Fifty years is a short span in history, but it brings many changes in the requirements of a developing State like Texas, so the Tremont must pass, and in a few more years will be lost even to memory.

Georgetown and Lampasas

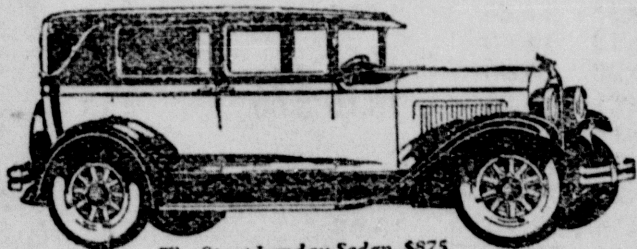

While it may not be necessary to tear away old buildings to make way for new hotels in Georgetown and Lampasas, these places have recognized the necessity for keeping up with the demand of the age, and have met the requirements for hotels to cost in excess of $10,000 each. In no other business has there been greater advance than in the management of hotels and while some of us regret that the old-time 'family hotel' table with its tempting viands spread for all to help themselves is almost a thing of the past, we must subject our wishes and our appetites to the modern order of things and patronize the hotel 'cafes.'

Ranches in Demand

Perhaps more stock ranches are changing hands in Texas than ever before in the history of the State. Certainly higher prices are being paid for ranches. Some of them are being subdivided into farms, but a larger number are brought to be held for cattle or sheep and goats. Much of this activity in ranch land transactions is due to the good prices for cattle and the demand for wool and mohair.

There is no single part of the state in which the demand for ranches is greatest and sales are reported all

Republican Panic

So marked is the impetus taken on by Governor Smith's campaign as election day draws near, that Republican leaders everywhere manifest signs of genuine panic.

The G. O. P. high command sees the "writing on the wall" in the East. Their campaign managers in the Northwest, where the LaFollette Progressive vote is lined up behind the Democratic candidate, are distracted by a sense of impending disaster. Their hope of breaking the Democratic dominance of the South is vanishing. And now a threat of utter rout comes with the tremendous reaction to Governor Smith's speeches in the border States.

Not without significance in its betrayal of the extreme anxiety of the Hoover politicians, is their insistent call upon President Coolidge for advice, for help, for reassurance.

The President did not choose to give Mr. Hoover the active aid in the campaign which G. O. P. leaders had deemed so desirable. What he did offer was aloof encouragement. The Republican candidate, he told the anxious politicians, was sure to win. He advised Mr. Hoover to keep cool, not to be stampeded into any rash act, not to say too much. And Mr. Hoover, it is apparent, has been influenced by that advice in his speaking campaign.

The publication in New York newspapers of President Coolidge's optimistic statements was followed immediately by a trip to Washington by Charles D. Hilles, New York National Committeeman, and H. Edmund Macbald, who recently resigned his water power associations to become the Republican State Chairman in New York.

They, too, tried desperately to dispel the defeatist atmosphere which has fallen over Republican campaign workers from Massachusetts to Montana. "The situation in New York looks very good," they assured Mr. Hoover. They backed the assertion with figures which were far in excess of the most partisan estimate given out by anyone in close touch with conditions in that State.

At the same time M. William Bray, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, was completing his annual canvas of county chairmen. According to the official reports of these chairmen, Governor Smith's vote in the counties outside of New York City, will be 30 per cent greater than in 1924 when the Governor was elected on the Democratic ticket although the State was carried by Coolidge. In 1924 Governor Smith's vote in the up-State districts was 690,000; reports of the county chairmen show that this year it will approximate 1,000,000. As in the past, the Governor is sure of an overwhelming majority in New York City.

Even Mr. Hoover must realize that his followers are painting a political mirage when they base their assurances of victory on the claim that Governor Smith will lose the State which four times elected him to its highest office.

Mr. Avriett says: "This campaign has clearly demonstrated that the man of average means is much more interested in the election of a Democratic President than the man of wealth and in a better position to contribute."

"Practically all of the contributions have been made by men whom giving a dollar is more a sacrifice than for some men to contribute one hundred dollars. Some of our tried and true democrats have apparently ignored the appeal for funds, even though urged to contribute by the State Director of Finance, J. H. Kirby."

ONE VARIETY COTTON ON BEN ARNOLD FARMS

MEETING HELD AT BEN ARNOLD
SATURDAY ATTENDED BY TWENTY FARMERS

Twenty farmers met at the school building at Ben Arnold Saturday evening at 7:30 and went into permanent organization to grow one variety of cotton.

C. C. Spruill was elected president and A. B. Henderson secretary.

After a short discussion of the plan of growing one variety in this community the president appointed a committee of three farmers to visit the seed breeding farm and purchase certified seed of known 'origin' and purity.

Both gins at Ben Arnold will agree to set aside the amount of time necessary for the exclusive ginning of this variety of cotton during the year 1929 and will clean out rolls and gin this cotton separately during the time agreed upon so as to keep out all mixture of other varieties.

The growing of one variety of cotton in a community in order to keep up the quality is becoming of greater importance each year. Since there are so many advantages to be gained by this system it can only be a question of time until it will be adopted in a great many communities.

Texas is rapidly losing its reputation in the European markets for the superior quality of cotton which it formerly had. This is due largely to too much mixture of varieties and staple and is resulting in the disappearance of the blanket premium on Texas cotton. The best way to regain this reputation and increase the value of our cotton is to standardize by communities.

On account of the public gins that regularly mix the seed of different varieties and the crossing of the different kinds in the fields, cotton varieties run out rapidly under the usual methods of production. In Texas only about 600,000 bushels of the 15,000,000 bushels planted annually are produced by the cotton seed breeders.

It is only in communities where the growers organize and restrict themselves to the planting of one variety of cotton that the seed can be kept pure and the production of superior cotton made possible. Other important advantages are:

1. Increased yield per acre due to better seed and to keeping the seed pure.

2. Reduced cost of production per pound of cotton.

3. Better ginning made possible as the ginner can adjust his gin for the particular variety. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station tests show that cotton ginned by saws operated at excessively high speed with a tight roll and lack of cleaning apparatus in air blasts gins, result in loss of $5.00 to $7.00 per bale. Cotton ginned while damp still further reduces the value of the staple.

4. Preventing planting of bales with inferior cotton.

5. Net profit greater per acre.

E. A. Miller, Agronomist of the Extension Service A. & M., and your County Agent will be glad to help any community with this program of one variety cotton whenever possible.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones Hosts to Members of The Intermediates

On Thursday evening of last week Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Jones entertained the Intermediate boys' and girls' classes of the Christian Sunday School at their home. There were about 30 present including guests of the classes.

The rooms were decorated in Halloween colors with dimmed lights, cats, bats, witches, etc. In the dining room a cornstalk tent in which an old witch dispensed fortunes from a hanging black pot in the glow of a hidden red light made a picturesque scene.

The guests were first taken two by two through the 'witches death chamber' a dark room where unknown terrors such as the 'Icy Hand of Death' and the 'Witches Grave,' accompanied by shrieks and groans awaited them. A 'fortune hunt', bobbing apples, a ghost story, a contest in pitching balls in the cat's mouth and other games followed until 9:45 when sandwiches and punch were served picnic fashion around a bonfire in the yard. All the guests proclaimed it a most enjoyable time.
